

Principle Study for Guests at different Levels

Birmingham, United Kingdom, August, September, October 2012

Jack Corley

As well as sharing the Principle in our homes, one-to-one, some of us in our community have tried to continue bringing guests to our Family Evenings, where we teach one topic for 40 minutes to 1 hour, have discussion together, and also have some songs and music followed by refreshments. Usually several first and second generation try to support the evening, and to create an atmosphere where we feel we are all learning together. We have evenings for new guests, for those who have already studied to some extent, and for those who have already studied 2 and 7-day content. Often, the guests look forward to meeting one another, as well as receiving and discussing further Principle content.

Thursday 2nd August

20 guests heard more of the Principles of Restoration.

Thursday 30th August

12 of our 'advanced' group of guests heard some of the 7-day content again, Principles of Creation, and we celebrated one person's birthday .

Friday 21st September

We discussed different aspects of Father's life, using powerpoint slides, the video 'A Determined Man' and our own personal testimonies.

Friday 28th September

5 of our 'intermediate' guests came to the Family Evening to hear about the Mission of Jesus / Purpose of the Messiah. Four of our second generation supported this evening.

Tuesday, 2nd October

We again discussed some deeper aspects of Father's life, shared some testimony from the Seung Hwa in Korea, and read more content from Father's autobiography.

Wednesday 3rd October

We covered the topic of 'The Last Days' in terms of restoration the 3 Blessings, and tried to show the relevance of the Principle in our modern era.
