

The Fabric of Our Society Is Determined By the Male and Female Archetypes

Bruce Dubuque
December 15, 2017

The very fabric of our society is determined by two things. The male and female archetypes in our lives, or in other words the Parental Figures that we hold most dear to us.

It does a man and his family no good to hold one parent on high while denouncing the other as a so-called whore. Such an arrangement is not based on Divine Principle, and is bad for society to accept in its midst as normal or acceptable. Indeed in the days of old they used to drive such people out from their midst by stoning them at the city gates if they refused to repent and change their ways.

Society has become more civilized since those days of old, or has it? While on one hand society is more accepting, on the other hand it has become more brutal raising people like Jeffrey Dalmer, and Charles Manson in our midst. Such mentally disturbed behavior starts or begins with their parents.

While Manson and Dalmer are extreme examples, we hear more and more everyday children going on killing sprees. Or is Columbine and other examples so quickly forgotten and overlooked.

A healthy society begins with healthy parenting. That is why True Parents MUST exist. There is NO other replacement to True Parents. We MUST fight back as children of True Parents to show nothing but love and respect of our True Parents, and CHALLENGE any or all that would dishonor and disrespect them.

It is OUR duty as children of the True Parents to never forsake and to always protect the image of our Parents. If we fail at this task, society will continue to break down, and will wipe out our own families until there is nothing left but animals bereft of human compassion living like dogs fighting amongst themselves over what is left.

Every Man, Woman and Child of good moral character should fight back to give honor and to defend their parents. Just like the Commandment of Moses says. If we do not, we shame ourselves and lose our own self-respect as Children of the One True God.