

“Sects, liberty of expression or seclusion?”

Witnessing during a Conference and Q&A session

Campus catholic university of Louvain-la-Neuve, Belgium, 18. November 2013

Louvain-la-Neuve campus

This Monday, November 18, 2013, on the campus of the Louvain-la-Neuve, Catholic University was organized a conference and a Q&A session about on the topic “Sects, liberty of expression or seclusion ?”

The association “Kapharnaum”

<http://kapharnaum.wix.com/kaphar> had invited as guest speakers the director of CIAOSN

<http://www.ciaosn.be/> (Information Center and Advice on Harmful Sects) and representatives of the Mormon Church, the Jehovah Witnesses and the Unification Church. However, the Mormon Church and the Jehovah Witnesses did not want to attend because of the presence of CIAOSN.

Only myself as a representative of the Unification Church was there. The CIAOSN started to make a speech justifying their existence and what they are doing. They did not say anything against our movement. After 15 minutes the MC asked me questions about what we believe. I could feel True Father’s presence, I felt very quiet and could explain about the basic teachings of the Divine Principle and the mission of Rev. Moon. What a wonderful opportunity to witness it was! I felt it was God’s blessing that I was the only religious movement representative. I could explain about our activities and a lot more about our faith. The audience was very respectful and was listening with great attention and interest. Later the audience asked some interesting questions and I suggested to them to come to the Sunday Service or a Divine Principle workshop. As I took with me a full box of True Father’s autobiography, I suggested to them to take one book each. No fewer than 16 people took a book and the address of our HQ.

Before leaving the room I could share more deeply with a few people and the director of CIAOSN.

Philippe Jacques