True Father's Wish for Us

The Cheon Seong Gyeong and the Pyeong Hwa Gyeong, True Father's words, are really lifesaving and a life inspiration. I'd like to share my tips and experience based on my last thirty years, on how we can live centering on True Parents. Every morning, when you start your day, you can build the habit on Hoon Dok Hae (scripture reading) to enrich your daily life. By reading the Cheon Seong Gyeong and the Pyeong Hwa Gyeong, you will have a life changing experience.

This was True Father's will and his last wishes. I remember, in his last four years in Las Vegas, and his last 40 days in Korea, he was adamant that this material will save us and inspire our tribal messiahships (personal family and community ministries) anew. This is it. You will have an experience that will make you internally and externally enriched.

Think about your life these days. You will face so many problems in life, and sometimes your emotion will stir up from emotional situations—relationships, for example. But reading True Father's words daily will make you better men and women. Reading the Messiah's message will make you a messiah, because this message will give you power and authority over your tribal messiahships.

If you don't already have these two books, consider that investing $160 in this is like getting something of $1 million value. I guarantee, one hundred percent, that it will change your life. Keep it for your life of faith. I believe there is a no-return policy [laughter], but please keep it for your life's sake. This is my experience, and the experience of many others, too. It makes a big difference whether or not you take on this daily habit, one hundred percent guaranteed.
