True Father Speaking at Washington Monument

Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Matthew 5:3

I am a religious leader. I spoke up during the Watergate affair because I wanted to turn that national crisis around and unite the national conscience of America in a Christian spirit. I knew that the Watergate crisis would bring advantage only to the communists. When America was completely paralyzed by the Watergate situation, communist student were flooding the campuses. For example, at Columbia University, in broad daylight, communist posters and propaganda brochures were being given out.

Communists participated extensively in the American presidential campaign. They were trying to influence the elections, to push for someone who will advance their cause. Here in New York, in front of our own World Mission Center, there was a left-wing demonstration for Carter. Are the left-wingers interested in Carter as a man? Not at all. The Carter Administration has to be very, very cautious and alert because there is an unAmerican group of people who looked at the situation and pushed for him, thinking he may work to their advantage. Dear

A key concept in the Divine Principle is that of "providential time identity." In reading over a talk that True Father gave 4 decades, it seemed remarkable to me how similar the time we are currently facing with a very divided nation and ANTIFA demonstrators carrying flags and wearing masks emblazoned with a hammer and sickle to the time in the 1970s when America was besieged by Communist expansion in Southeast Asia and internally by Leftists on our campuses spewing their contempt and hatred for this nation.

It was precisely at this time that a religious leader from East Asia, Sun Myung Moon, stood up to call the nation back to its Biblical roots, and to "forgive, love and unite" in support of its beleaguered president. Fast forward 40 years, and Father's anointed son is talking directly about these issues and the need to return to the Judeo-Christian foundation. One might wonder why after all the blood, sweat, tears and victories of the last 4 decades, it would be necessary to repeat a period of a "divided nation" but perhaps it reflects a major providential failure that took place after Father ascended to the spirit world.

In Sunday's service, Hyung Jin Nim explained that the Bible is the story of the war between blood lines, between satanic lineages who see themselves as God's gift to the world but actually bring the centralized power of Communism, Nazism, and oligarchies that seek to control populations. They evoke agenda-driven science such as the eugenics of the Darwinists and fake polls to manipulate the people towards desired conclusions involving the immorality of centralized control.

Kingdom of the Rod of Iron 13 - April 22, 2018 - Rev. Hyung Jin Moon - Unification Sanctuary, Newfoundland PA

The satanic kingdoms are to be replaced by the co-heirs of Christ who inherit the earth and rule the earth, and have the rights of kings and queens to have ownership of their lineage, territory and the right to self defense. Even with the return of Christ on earth, checks and balances on the abuse of power will be important. As Hyung Jin Nim pointed out, a gun range is the most polite place you've ever been to. We must not be intimidated or afraid. The humble of the earth need to learn about the exercise of power but not to misuse. We should be guided by ideals of Peace Police Peace Militia, to protect others, for God's glory.

On Friday, April 6, a moving Seonghwa ceremony was held to honor the life of a beloved sister, Angela Schmid, who moved with her husband, Herwig, from their hometown in Austria to Pennsylvania and were among the strongest supporters of True Father's anointed heir and 2nd King of Cheon Il Guk, Hyung Jin Nim.
