"In order to build a world of lasting peace, we must each apply a simple basic principle: living for the sake of others."

-WFWP founder Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon

True joy is within our grasp! We've got confidence-boosting education, service know-how, and the connections to foster peace and reconciliation. We have big plans for this coming year and more goals to reach, but we need you!

Giving to a worthy cause can be such a joy, and WFWP shares your vision of lasting peace and is working every day to make it a reality. For example, in 2023, we plan to build and improve collaborations with ethnic communities in the U.S., like the Thai community and Native American (First Nations) peoples. We seek to bring the message of Living for the Sake of Others to thousands more across the country, of all languages and backgrounds. Let's fill this season and the coming year with joy and good works!

Will you help us build a world of lasting peace?

Yes! I want to support WFWP
