WFWP USA Statement on Las Vegas Tragedy

October 3, 2017

We are all deeply shaken to our core at the news of yesterday's mass killing in Las Vegas. The unimaginable happened, coming as a surprise, out of the blue, where no one expected it or was able to prevent it.

Our prayers and hearts go out to the victims and their families, those who passed on in such an untimely fashion and the many who were wounded. as a result of this terrible tragedy.

In a way this is a wake up call for America, to increase our prayers, focus on goodness, healing and love, now more than ever and truly value life at every moment.

In just about ten days WFWP USA will have our national chairwomen retreat in Las Vegas at the International Peace Education Center, and we decided we will dedicate some time of our schedule to assist the victims and their families.

Let us intensify our prayers for one another, live righteous and godly lives of service, love and kindness to balance all the dark energies surrounding us. God has not given up on us yet, as long as we don't give up on God.

Peace to all!

With love and prayers,

Angelika Selle
WFWP USA President
