

Bay Area Principled Academy Students at Annual Arts & Letters Show Showcase

Kevin Thompson
May 6, 2016

The Principled Academy hosted its annual Arts & Letters evening on May 6 to showcase the work of their students.

The Arts & Letters showcase has been an integral part of the Principled Academy curriculum for over 25 years. The showcase is always a time of happiness as it gives students a chance to display their talents and the projects they have been working on during the school year. The children are proud of what they have accomplished and like nothing more than to answer questions and explain in detail what they have been learning.

It is particularly gratifying for parents, as well, who get to see their children's development from the first through the eighth grade with each successive year.

Established in 1988, the Principled Academy is a comprehensive character education program based on classical religious values. The goal of the academy is to develop within each child a moral compass, thus enabling good decision-making.

All staff members are committed and trained to support the development of the whole child, academically, socially, and emotionally; they are also committed to cultivating close relationships between teachers, parents, and students based on frequent communication.

If you live in the Bay Area and are interested in enrolling your child at the Principled Academy, see their website for more details.

Did you know that if you take the trail at the San Leandro Marina south, you will end up at the Hayward Shoreline Interpretive Center?

During this special program for TPA students and their families, spend the morning along the San Francisco Bay Trail with an expert naturalist, discovering the plants and animals that call our Bay home. Go into the areas of the 1800 acre park that are closed to the public. Everyone will make an animal track to take home! Light refreshments will be provided. Free!
