European Conference in Geneva, Switzerland

Excellencies, Colleagues and Friends,

We would like to invite you to join us in the continuing series of conferences held since 2008 at the United Nations in Geneva and New York, as well as, in London, Bergamo and Fribourg, Switzerland on interreligious/ intercultural peace-building. A full day symposium is being planned to commemorate International Day of Peace on Friday, September 23 at the United Nations Office in Geneva with a second day being held at the University. The organizers include representatives of non-governmental organizations and other civil society actors, including the academic and religious sectors, governments and the International Organization on Migration (IOM).

The choice of theme, Multiculturalism and Peace, was spurred by the recent tragic events in Norway and the public statements of prominent European Heads of State about the failure of multiculturalism in their nations. The emphasis will be on Europe, but not excluding the input or best practice models from other continents, all of whom have a stake in the success of European integration policy.

The conference will provide a vision for change by looking more deeply at root causes, a common language of core values, best practice models and the essential missing "will". Plans are in place to then bring concrete recommendations to the United Nations and International Organizations, government policy makers and community leaders that would help appease tensions and stimulate peace-building within nations -with a longer term cooperation envisaged towards the implementation of conference results.

Day two of the conference will take place Saturday September 24, 2011 at the University of Geneva and will allow more time for interaction while considering the universal values and best practices that are necessary to create a world in which the people of every region, race, nationality, culture and religion can live together in peace. We will also delve more deeply into the root causes of conflict, and the ways to move together towards reconciliation and prosperity as one human family. Participants will all experience an interactive "World Café" (discussion forum), facilitated by the UPF Youth Council.

A fee of 320 Euros for each participant will include a two night stay in double room accommodation with meals and all aspects of the programme (single room accommodation is available but at the additional cost).

To notify us of your wish to attend, please complete the attached registration form and send it to your local UPF or WFWP contact person.

Please register by 16th September noon time to be sure of obtaining a badge for the UN Office in Geneva.

We hope you will consider this invitation important and decide to participate in this program.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Yong Cheol Song
