

Chong Phet, Cambodian Undersecretary of State's message at the Launch of the Heavenly Tribal Messiah Association for World Peace

Sok Seng Yan
February 18, 2019

Be respected True Mother, True Father. Be respected our Blessed Families, Unificationist Brothers and Sisters:

It is my great honor to stand here giving a speech in our fatherland as the representative of heavenly tribal messiahs from Cambodia. My name is Chong Phet, a board member of FFWPU-Cambodia and (externally) undersecretary of state in the Ministry of Rural Development. Today, a number of successful families from all over the world -- those who have fulfilled the great mission of gathering their tribe in order to become a heavenly tribal messiah -- have come here to Chung Pyung Training Center in the holy land, to inaugurate the Cheon Il Guk International Association of Heavenly Tribal Messiahs. Through this event, the foundation of heavenly tribal messiahs that are helping to build solidarity between communities, between religions, in politics and in culture will gradually expand to the national and the world levels.

The heavenly tribal messiah movement consists of education and training given to couples that receive the interfaith peace blessing to inspire them to build exemplary families. These blessed couples will extend to their families and neighbors as they gather 430 couples and bring them to receive the interfaith peace blessing.

These 430 couples, those that attend an interfaith peace blessing, go through the forty-day separation and the three-day ceremony, can then build a blessed family. This is not each family's blessing but these 430 families will become one family. These couples go into a "tribe" and work to create an environment for Heaven's kingdom, Cheon Il Guk, in the community. I believe that our Heavenly Parent derives much joy from seeing this movement, which makes effort to build one family under God.

Our heavenly tribal messiah movement started in Cambodia in 2016. Members are bringing their neighbors to receive the blessing and then training them in Divine Principle and internal guidance through Hoon Dok Hae as they move along the path toward humanity's original state and the ideal of a true family within a Home Group.

This movement not only conducts basic education but also moves to organize each group of 430 families that have received the blessing so that they work to resolve problems in their local community and participate in the global providence. We conduct heavenly tribal messiah activities at the local level but these activities are endeavors conducted to achieve world peace.

FFWPU and UPF are neither religious organizations nor political organizations but peace organizations. Of course, in order to reach world peace, we need religion, we need politics and we need economics. That's why we need an inter-religious approach, an international political approach and an international economic approach, but the most important approach to achieve peace is through the family.

Cambodia is a nation that has had experiences that lead us to recognize the importance of peace. For us, the term "peace" is our cherished hope, like a skin-touch sensation. We also have much experience that comes in regaining peace when we have gotten our families back.

I met True Parents in Bantey Meanchay Province, Cambodia, in 2016 through Mr. Hut Hen. At that time, I was deputy provincial governor of that province and was about to retire. After retiring from my work, I was able to take part in several workshops to learn Divine Principle and I had a chance to come to Chung Pyung, too.

Dr. Yong came to Cambodia for a nationwide tour covering twenty-five provinces. I accompanied him to pray at the holy ground and to meet with the blessed families there. After coming back from the twenty-five-province tour with Dr. Yong, I received a call from the central government and received a new title as undersecretary of state. I believe True Parents gave this position to me. That's why I need to use this position for the True Parents' work.

The vision of Divine Principle is the three great blessings -- unity between mind and body, unity among the family and unity within society. We should achieve these three in the proper order and in order to complete these three great blessings, unity with True Parents is always the key. When we do this, we will realize everything automatically. This has been my experience.

Beloved True Mother! You are truly the only begotten daughter! When we unite with you and your vision, automatically we will realize Cheon Il Guk. The Cheon Il Guk International Association of Heavenly Tribal Messiahs is a worldwide network to unite with True Mother. We are so happy to inaugurate this association. Let's go forward non-stop! Thank you for listening.