On Monday, Barbara Grabner from UPF Slovakia offered a multifaceted cross-section. Right now, many people visit the cemeteries and sense some spiritual presence. “For centuries, visionaries, mystics, and clairvoyants have described life in the spirit world.

Each child of his time had his own view and interpretation of events, but no one has been able to express the whole truth,” she explained.” Her colorful presentation introduced the best books and mediums, like Robert James Lees or Anthony Borgia, as well as famous painters of the afterlife like William Blake and Gustave Doré.

Also, some sections from the famous Hollywood movie “Beyond the Horizon” with Robin Williams were shown. In addition, some revealing quotes from our founder’s talks were included. The participants (30 persons) listened attentively for almost two hours.

A retired professor of philosophy commented, “Your lecture has been the food of thought for me. The presentation was excellent.

I need more time for personal reflection.” One lady, formerly a professor for Germanistics, told her vivid encounters with deceased relatives.

Sincerely,

Barbara Grabner
