Unification Theological Seminary

“The Seminary is not a place or a building; it is these people who are equipped with the spirit and ideal given by God... Armed upon graduation with a capacity for creative leadership, these students, I am sure, will be able to usher in a new world of a higher dimension after removing society’s vicious vices.”

Rev. Sun Myung Moon
UTS Inaugural Address Sept. 20, 1975

There have recently been several enquiries from our UTS alumni/ae and friends about supporting the seminary. I have gathered the five campaigns that are currently active. Please review them and consider gifts to support one or more campaigns. Sometimes the question is "Where does the money go?" I assure you that your gifts go to the campaigns which are purposed.

Thank you for your generosity,

Robin James Graham

Ministry Scholarship Fund

We invite you to contribute to the Ministry Scholarship Fund which currently anticipates 2 awards of $1800 per year for students in the Doctor of Ministry program. All levels of donations are welcome; recipients will be selected by the UTS Financial Aid Committee.

A scholarship can be "named" to honor a special person, by contributing $1800 in a one-time payment or through 12 monthly payments of $150.

UTS Annual Fund

The UTS Annual Fund drives the mission of the seminary and has an impact upon the UTS educational experience throughout the academic year. It is vital to our operating budget, as tuition and support from the sponsoring church do not cover all of the seminary's expenses.

Support the Applied Unificationism Blog

apply Unificationist principles to today's societal problems. Please support the Applied Unificationism Blog with your donation and help it continue to post cutting-edge commentaries that help Unificationists, and all people, address the challenges of the future."

To help fund:

- Website upgrades
- Software upgrades
- Subscription access to stock photo service
- Administrative costs

UTS-Online: Cutting Edge Theological Education

The current online program brings the UTS mission of "bridging religious and cultural divides" to a worldwide audience.

UTS introduced distance education in the late 1990s, through correspondence courses and dial-in telephone calls. UTS now uses the Instructure Canvas learning management platform: "Canvas is the best educational learning management system on the market today" (PCMag Jan, 2018)

Please support our innovative programs and help us bring UTS education to an even wider global audience.

Divinity Scholarship Fund

We invite you to contribute to the Divinity Scholarship Fund which currently anticipates five awards of $1200 per year to be given to 5 candidates for the degree of Master of Divinity. All levels of donations are welcome; awards to recipients will be decided by the UTS Financial Aid Committee.

A scholarship can be "named" by contributing $1200 in a one-time payment or through 12 monthly payments of $100.

The Divinity Scholarship is designed to defray some of the cost, but students need to understand and budget for the full cost of their education. Prospective students are encouraged to explore multiple funding sources to cover educational and living expenses.

UTS is committed to increasing the financial literacy of all its students to encourage them to finish their degrees with as little debt as possible.
