Unificationism and Contemporary Psychology/Therapy/Healing

A Seminar with Gavin Hamnett (UTS'91) MS, MRE, CASAC

Saturday, April 6 10am to 6pm

Sunday, April 7 9am to 4pm

at the historic Massena House, UTS Barrytown

You are invited to a 2-day experiential seminar that comes out of Gavin's personal healing journey and experience working as an addictions counselor, mental health therapist, and pastor.

The invitation is for UTS graduates and anybody with a past, present, or anticipated future involvement in the above field.

In the seminar, I'm going to share about various models and insights I've discovered and practiced which I've found congruent with and exchange light with the Unification perspective and model.

I believe the Unification approach is seeking to bring about a major mindset shift and liberation and the best in contemporary healing models and methods can help bring this about.

The seminar will be experiential so don't plan on coming if you aren't prepared to take part in some meditation, movement, mindfulness and, hopefully, mirth.

The cost is $30 to cover drinks, snacks, and lunch on Saturday.

UTS is generously donating the space and I'm in the mood to make a donation of my time towards the advancement of healing in the Unification Community. Head into Red Hook or Rhinebeck for other meals.

For accommodation at UTS contact Kate Korda at katekorda@gmail.com

The cost of rooms is $70/night; rooms contain a queen bed or two single beds.

The seminar will be limited to the first 20 people who commit to coming. The number is limited due to space and how many people with whom I feel I can connect, meaningfully.

To register or if you have questions contact me at GHamnett@gmail.com My cell is 845-532-8336
