

The January 25/26 First Blessing workshop with Ron Pappalardo

Robin Graham
January 31, 2014

The workshop in the Massena House with Ron Pappalardo was truly “refreshing”. The atmosphere among the participants who braved the cold and snow to get there was warm and embracing.

The Massena House is a wonderful location for a workshop and the UTS hospitality with Kate Korda was excellent, and the meals by Page Whidbee were splendid.

We left the weekend feeling spiritually nourished and full of hope; eager for more at a future date. Over 35 participants attended.

Here are just a few reflections from UTS alumni and family members:

I signed up for Ron’s workshop with a mixed feeling. I have had skepticism about the spirit world and definitely did not want to spend my weekend to listen to a preacher on the issues I heard before. I am now happy I signed up. It was different than what I expected. It reinforced my belief system. Ron’s presentation was personal, authentic, and sincere. I recommend this workshop to those who want to know more about spirituality and the personal God. Thank you Ron for your honesty. God bless you.

Everyone who has the opportunity should attend Ron’s “First Blessing” workshop. You will not be disappointed. With the most sincere and kind heart, he will reveal how he learned to open his spiritual senses to find his son who went to the spiritual world at age 17. In the process of finding his son he learned, and will teach you, how to find how much God loves each one of us and is yearning for a personal relationship with us.

Ron and Connie,

The workshop was wonderful. Very fluid and responsive to the crowd’s interests and vibes. Clarity came from the historical accounts told. I left feeling open and capable. Thank you for your deep attention.

So many tears. Of course I learned many things, but the value for me is in the emotions I was able to process. And then there were our moments with True Father and Mother. Incredible, priceless, and fabulously awesome.

This has been blessedly eye opening, a wonderful step forward towards achieving greater spiritual sensitivity, both to the heart of God and to those deceased persons who need our help and seek to help us.

Ron shares his sincere dedication to helping others experience the love of God, and facilitating bonds of love across the divide between earth and spirit world. His own journey that began with an unspeakable tragedy is one that now blesses us with insight into divine forgiveness and unconditional love. He is passionate, knowledgeable, and funny – and the information and stories are utterly riveting. He and his wife are a national treasure.

A very deep, insightful and refreshing experience. Ron helps some weary, mission-exhausted, dedicated missionaries reconnect to their sources – finding the heart of God anew.

I had some experience channeling and visiting mediums so when I heard of this workshop I was thrilled. Through this workshop I learned my intuition is right on. The most important connection is with Heavenly Mother-Father God. My heart already told me that there are no evil people – just stupid ones.

The profound facts of God's work through all of history – trying to reach his precious children's ears – were overwhelming. I always asked to be influential in turning America's ears toward God. The valuable information and heart-moving testimonies Ron poured into us pushes me to follow the next step to be most useful to God at this time.

Sometimes in our lives things line up to show us something that is right in front of us. Somehow Ron is able to go right to the core of my deepest heart and say what is locked up in there. I will always mark this workshop as the beginning of a new more "real" life. One in which I am determined to walk closer walk with Heavenly Mother-Father God every day.