

I have a few experiences that show me that Spiritual World transcends time

Angus McDonald
September 4, 2018

Someone posted up a quote of Father's saying that Time is not the same in Spiritual World as it is here. I have a few experiences that show me that Spiritual World transcends time. Anyone else got this kind of experience. I will relate one such experience.

In the lead up to the Matching and Blessing in Korea on 11th and 12th January 1989 British members were starting to congregate at Lancaster Gate Headquarters to be ready to travel to Korea mainly on the same flight. On the 8th or 9th January, I can't remember how long we were there before leaving for Korea but I do know we were all matched pretty much as soon as we arrived.

Sleeping at Lancaster Gate on the night of the 8th of January, I think, I had a dream where I was looking down on a brother who was smaller than me. I'm not that tall but this brother was smaller than me and in my dream my attitude was wrong and I was taking some strange kind of comfort from that, within the dream I was able to change my attitude and improve it a little and I think even pray for the brother within the dream. The dream ended with Spiritual World telling me that my descendants were going to be as numerous as the stars.

Scroll forward a few days and we'd all had our prolonged overnight stop at Anchorage airport on the way to Korea as the airplane had clipped the wing of another plane while taxiing to refuel and they had to send another plane from Korea to get us! lol. Meanwhile my future wife to be was delayed by customs at Los Angeles along with a large contingent of the Brazilian family.

So we've all pretty much arrived together at the McCol factory on 11th January and True Father has come back there to match us all. There were other stragglers there from various other countries also. Quite a lot of Malaysians I remember and brothers and sisters from Thailand and some from Africa and very few Japanese and Koreans as they had mostly all already been matched. There are probably about six hundred brothers and sisters there total with incredibly equal numbers of both if you consider the logistics of the whole thing.

Then it came to the matching. It had been going on an hour or so and a French brother turned down this Brazilian sister and wanted a Korean wife. Father said "No Koreans here will Asian do" and then picked out this sister who was to become my wife' She can look quite Filipino but in truth I think Father was playing with him. He told Father "She's not Asian" lol, Father picked out a Malaysian sister and both accepted and off they went. Now the Brazilian sister is left standing there and Father starts looking for someone for her and he picks out the brother I dreamed with at Lancaster Gate. All of a sudden I felt, No, that should be me and kind of kneeled more uprightly. I was quite a few rows back. Then Father starts walking towards me. My National leader is running in front of him towards me and grabbed me a little looking at my years of Higher Education for some reason, which we were told to pin on our jackets. Father then Comes gets me to come forward and puts me beside the Brazilian sister we both agreed and that was that. Spiritual World was already aware and I had for me at least The proof of it.