

My memories of Papasan and the early days in San Francisco

San Francisco, a very spiritual place. Even today as I return to Bay Area. My wife met God up here too.

I just remembered thanks to another testimony. I joined in San Jose which was a satellite of San Francisco and Papasan Choi held forth there. I really liked him and his family. Anyway as a new fundraiser I was struggling a little. He appeared to me in broad daylight like a Yoda hologram! Needless to say I was greatly inspired. I've had visions and dreams but never a hologram. Although the weekend I joined at Mr. Choi's workshop the heaven's opened up and I experienced God.

After the last lecture all of a sudden the heavens opened up in the richest gold and pearl. There was an incredible rushing sound of thousands of angel's wings. The parental heart of God that I felt was stronger, bigger, and more infinite than anyone can comprehend. Greater than a million atomic bombs. That heart totally engulfed me. I realized He can solve all our problems easily. He just needs our love, which is the key free will game changer that depends on us alone. We hold "the key to love and fear."
