

IAAP USA: Forgiveness As A Path To Peace And Harmony

Staffan Berg
October 28, 2024

Universal Values: Forgiveness as a path to peace and harmony

Tuesday October 29, 2024 2:00 PM EDT

Roger Epstein
Maitreya Institute
Founding director
and current president

Sandra Lowen, PhD,
MS, BS/BA,
John Lowen, MSW,
BCE
Marriage & Family
Institute: Licensed
clinical social workers

Jeffrey Nakama,
D.Min.
Executive Director
UPF- Hawaii
(MC)

Staffan Berg,
D. Min.
US Coordinator
IAAP

Peace and harmony may seem unattainable in the face of the numerous conflicts in our world today. People are constantly reminded of past grief as victors or victims by holidays, statues and tales of heroism. It is curious that revenge and violence still reign in this age of abundant information and have the power to polarize humanity to act destructively.

International rules of fair play and mutual agreements to limit conflict have had limited success and are often ignored. Even those who can analyze the world according to science rarely apply it to human interactions. Something elusive is lacking in the application of human and natural law.

Enter the element of "forgiveness." Kindly join our panel to explore the exit ramp of forgiveness from the wide and busy freeway of polarization and fighting. This is a less-travelled path to peace and harmony for which long-time forgiveness activist and educator Roger Epstein and the practical wisdom of Dr. Sandra and John Lowen can be exceedingly useful. Kindly enhance our discussion with your presence.

Register:

Sponsored by the International Association of Academicians for Peace of Universal Peace Federation (IAAP)

LIVE STREAM U.S. UPF.ORG/LIVE

Zoom Registration @UPFUSA @UPFUSA

International Association of Academicians for Peace: Forgiveness as a path to peace and harmony Universal Values Webinar Series

Tuesday, October 29, 2024 @ 2-3 PM EDT

Peace and harmony may seem unattainable in the face of the numerous conflicts in our world today. People are constantly reminded of past grief as victors or victims by holidays, statues and tales of heroism. It is curious that revenge and violence still reign in this age of abundant information and have the power to polarize humanity to act destructively. International rules of fair play and mutual agreements to limit conflict have had limited success and are often ignored. Even those who can analyze the world according to science rarely apply it to human interactions. Something elusive is lacking in the application of human and natural law.

Enter the element of "forgiveness." Kindly join our panel to explore the exit ramp of forgiveness from the wide and busy freeway of polarization and fighting. This is a less-travelled path to peace and harmony for which long-time forgiveness activist and educator Roger Epstein and the practical wisdom of Dr. Sandra and John Lowen can be exceedingly useful. Hosts Drs. Staffan Berg and Jeffrey Nakama of UPF invite you to enhance the discussion with your presence.

Register here now: us-upf-org.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZApcuisrzkiHtUsCOYmejP0hFzDaT3OpyL3#/registration
Tuesday, October 29, 2024 @ 2-3 PM EDT

Universal Values: Forgiveness as a path to peace and harmony

Tuesday October 29, 2024 2:00 PM EDT

Roger Epstein

Maitreya Institute
Founding director
and current president

Sandra Lowen, PhD,
MS, BS/BA
John Lowen, MSW,
BCE
Marriage & Family
Institutes: Licensed
clinical social workers

Jeffrey Nakama,
D.Min.
Executive Director
UPF- Hawaii
(MC)

Staffan Berg,
D. Min.
US Coordinator
IAAP

Peace and harmony may seem unattainable in the face of the numerous conflicts in our world today. People are constantly reminded of past grief as victors or victims by holidays, statues and tales of heroism. It is curious that revenge and violence still reign in this age of abundant information and have the power to polarize humanity to act destructively.

International rules of fair play and mutual agreements to limit conflict have had limited success and are often ignored. Even those who can analyze the world according to science rarely apply it to human interactions. Something elusive is lacking in the application of human and natural law.

Enter the element of "forgiveness." Kindly join our panel to explore the exit ramp of forgiveness from the wide and busy freeway of polarization and fighting. This is a less-travelled path to peace and harmony for which long-time forgiveness activist and educator Roger Epstein and the practical wisdom of Dr. Sandra and John Lowen can be exceedingly useful. Kindly enhance our discussion with your presence.

Register:

Sponsored by the International Association of Academicians for Peace
of Universal Peace Federation (IAAP)

LIVE STREAM

US.UPF.ORG/LIVE

Zoom Registration

@UPFUSA

@UPFUSA