

Eva Chan
May 24, 2025

Theme: Living on Purpose, Flowing in Your Genius, Leaving a Legacy

In our third powerful gathering of the Transformational Coaching Program, we embarked on a journey deep into self-awareness, purpose, and aligned prosperity. Over five immersive hours, participants were invited to look within, guided by science, spirit, and community.

The Science of Self: Hand Analysis as a Life Map

We began with an eye-opening exploration into the ancient yet scientifically-informed practice of Hand Analysis. Each participant received insight into their unique life lessons, decoded from their very own fingerprints. This wasn't fortune-telling, it was purpose-telling.

Our coach skillfully revealed how the patterns in our hands are connected to the soul's curriculum, helping us recognize the recurring challenges that are not obstacles, but invitations to growth. As each participant saw their life's journey reflected in their hands, clarity, emotion, and empowerment filled the room.

Discovering Genius: Wealth Dynamics and Flow

The journey continued with an introduction to GeniusU and the Wealth Dynamics Test. Each participant had the opportunity to understand their own energetic profile, whether Creator, Star, Supporter, Deal Maker, Trader, Accumulator, Lord, or Mechanic. With their individual results in hand, the coach explained how each profile aligns with one of the Five Natural Energy Flows: Dynamo, Blaze, Tempo, Steel, and Spirit.

Participants began to see why certain paths felt draining, while others lit them up. The message was clear: When you align with your natural energy and give value through your genius, that's when opportunities multiply. This is the power of flow, where joy, value, and wealth intersect.

Breakout Dialogues: Real Conversations, Real Breakthroughs

In intimate breakout sessions, participants were invited to reflect and share on powerful questions:

Is the life I'm living on purpose?

What does wealth mean to me?

The discussions were raw, real, and revealing. Many realized they had been chasing definitions of success not aligned with their truth. Others discovered hidden gifts and new visions. Through vulnerability and authentic sharing, the group deepened not only in knowledge but in connection.

The Heart of the Message: Your Life is Your Legacy

As the session drew to a close, a resonant truth anchored in:

"Your life is your legacy."

It was more than a quote, it became a call to action. To live intentionally. To align with one's natural genius. To give value, not for validation, but from a place of deep purpose. To recognize that the legacy we leave is not about monuments, it's about moments lived in flow, in truth, and in service.

Session 3 was not just a class. It was a mirror, a map, and a mission. Participants walked away not only with tools and knowledge, but with a deeper understanding of themselves and a renewed sense of direction.

Reported by Eva Chan
Project Manager WFWP UK/London