In 2006, Rev. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon held a ceremony to combine soil and water that were brought from around the world to the Cheon Jeong Gung Museum and combined them with the soil and water of Korea. This signifies the unification of the blood-stained, divided world into one peaceful world, by taking down the walls and boundaries of all kinds. At that time, Rev. Moon proclaimed, "We have come to an age where we can firmly create the base for true love, true life and true lineage by bringing the divided mind and body, divided families and divided tribes together as one in harmony."

On this day, Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon named the entire area of Chung Pyung in Gapyeong City, which was chosen as Korea's holy land, as "HJ Cheon Won." HJ Cheon Won means "the heavenly garden filled with the heart of filial piety toward Heavenly Parents." FFWPU expressed, in other words, it signifies the establishment of "One family under God (Heavenly Parents) as a community with the heart of filial piety."

The "HJ Cheon Won," which will be cultivated into a peace complex, is the holy land where the FFWPU members gathered to offer prayers and dedication for over 30 years for the reunification of North and South Korea, as well as for the peace of all mankind; in accordance with the peace ideals of Rev. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon.....
