Weekly Greeting

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Greetings!

I pray that you had a wonderful Easter Sunday. As Dr Michael Balcomb expressed in a text message – this day is special for our community, not only because Jesus resurrected, but because it was the day our True Father took up the mission of Jesus – beginning his incredible path to comfort our Heavenly Parent and open the way to liberate all of humanity.

I heard good news about the middle school workshop at 43rd Street – a big thank you to Toby Gullery and Yasu Yukawa and all who helped to make it happen.

I would like to share with you a brief testimony.

I was in communication with several members who were struggling about recent decisions by True Mother - "Why did she make this decision and that decision? Why is she making these changes?" They were second guessing her - thinking that she had been politically influenced or motivated.

In response, I shared with them what I had learned from the recent District Pastor's conference in Las Vegas - that True Mother has been meeting on a daily basis, every morning, with Dr Yang and Peter Kim - receiving reports and giving guidance for the providence - with special attention given to Korea, Japan, and the USA.

Most importantly (as Dr. Yang shared with us), whenever there was uncertainty, True Mother would excuse herself and go to pray in the room where True Father had prayed and meditated. Afterwards she would return with clear guidance.

surprised to learn that they had not received this report. It turned out to be very helpful to them - to know that True Mother is in fact receiving and actively seeking guidance from True Father as she makes her decisions and gives directions.

As we all know, sometimes God, our Heavenly Parent, gives directions that we don't at first understand or cannot explain. I remember when I held the position of state leader in West Virginia; True Father suddenly choose a few of us – and changed our missions. He sent us to join the national mobile fundraising team (MFT). That was hard to swallow at the time. I had all kinds of questions and doubts in my mind. But in the end I took it as the will of God – and, as you can probably guess, it became one of the great learning experiences of my life.

We need to understand clearly who our True Parents are – and with that understanding, trust in the decisions that they make – that our Heavenly Parent is fully there. That unity of heart with True Parents is the key element in our creating a healthy growing community of faith in which we can be transformed and through which we can change the world.

Finally – have you been communicating with your family and the people you know? Did you make phone calls this past week - just to ask them how they are doing and to express your sincere interest?

Let's make it a great week by practicing love for each other!

God Bless You
Andrew Compton

Sermon

This week I gave a sermon "Seeing the Positive" at Belvedere. If you missed it, and would like to hear it – you can go to: (it starts with a poem by Andy Morris)
