Thanks for all the support we've received from Crescentia and the

Below is a letter to families from Crescentia DeGoede, Director of the BFM.

Dear Families,

Love, sex, and purity are some of the most important and precious things that our True Parents have taught us about. But how can we as families and communities navigate the sometimes confusing and complicated culture that we find ourselves growing up in and raising our children in?

The average age at which a child is first exposed to pornography is rapidly dropping to between 8 and 11 years old. It is not an easy topic to address, to say the least. That is why we are so excited about the work that our brothers and sisters at High Noon are doing in developing a sex education curriculum for families called "School of Love."

School of Love is a family-driven sex education curriculum to help families have natural, ongoing conversations about love and sex in the home. They've assembled a passionate and capable group of individuals and parents to create the program, and now they need our help to make School of Love accessible for free to any families that want to have that conversation.

If you can donate to this important cause, please go to highnoon.org/givingtuesday.

Thank you for your consideration of this request. Your support for this important cause is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Crescentia DeGoede

#GIVING TUESDAY™

School of Love

School Of Love is a family-driven sex education curriculum to help families have natural, ongoing conversations about love and sex in the home, from childhood up until the Blessing.

Principle Based

There are many books for parents to talk about sex with their children. We don't wish to reinvent the wheel but apply a Principled perspective. True Parents have shared deep wisdom regarding the sexual relationship. School Of Love will be the sex education program that True Father would have created.

Family Focused

Sex is a powerful force created by God. It's unfortunate that the majority of youth's understanding of sex comes from friends, school, and whatever they stumble upon the internet. The philosophy of School Of Love is that responsibility for nurturing children's sexual values lies with the parents. It's designed to be used in the home.

Professionally Produced

Parents and children need to enjoy School Of Love if they are going to continue using it from childhood all the way to the Blessing. School Of Love will comprise of educational content, beautiful illustrations, and Youtube content all to stimulate important conversations within families. Our goal is that these conversations become a child's most cherished memories with their parents.

These are the pillars School Of Love is built on and what we need your help to create. We've assembled a team of professional writers, illustrators, animators, and coders to bring School Of Love to life. It's a costly venture and what your donations will support.

Once School Of Love is complete, we intend to make it available for free, allowing access to any family that wishes to have the conversation it provides. School Of Love will never earn a profit. It is only through your donations that this can be possible.

Our Goal = $50,000

Meet the School of Love Team

Family is the school of love. It's where children should learn the language of love and speak it as naturally as breathing. Sex is one of the most powerful forms of love, and the family should be the place children learn about God's grand design for their sexuality. Parents are often overwhelmed in discerning how to educate their children on this topic, and that's where we come in. School Of Love is a parent's curriculum to teach children from a young age all the way to adulthood about the relevant things to know regarding sexuality, the way God meant it to be.
