At Sunday School this week children were introduced to True Parent's life journey! We learned that True Parents are champions of true love, which means, champions in loving God and mankind. Just like True Father was a champion at serving and loving other children in his village and at school, children had a chance to reflect on what they can do to become like mini True Parents themselves wherever they go. Throughout the class, children also had a brief glimpse into Korean culture and language, also learning a few hangul words.
