Event Report

The monthly meeting of Cheon Il Guk leaders in Côte d'Ivoire brought together 25 key representatives - including FFWPU-CI department directors, church pastors, secretaries-general, assistant leaders, and heads of providential organizations - and was conducted in two parts.

Part One: Morning Training Sessions

During the morning session, the attending leaders participated in two specialized training presentations:

Activity Report Writing: Led by Eliane Dakpogan, Director of the FFWPU-CI Communication Department. Special emphasis was placed on the key elements required in activity reports, particularly those designated for the HJ Peace Medical Center.

Strategies for Witnessing Victory: Led by Innocent Keiba, Director of the Witnessing and Education

Department. A pilot project was launched for volunteer churches to meticulously track the progress of their witnessing activities.

Following a dynamic Q and A session, the leaders deepened their understanding and resolved to improve their effectiveness in the field.

Part Two: Regional Orientations and National Report

The afternoon session shifted focus toward regional strategy and national updates:

Regional Direction: Joining online via Zoom, the Director of the North Africa Region, Rev. Adon Marie Nsimba, provided guidance on overall regional goals and outlined practical arrangements for submitting activity reports on time.

Mid-Year Review: Local pastors and department directors presented reviews of their achievements and activities during the first six months of 2026.

National Address: National Leader Rev. Kouamé Rodrigue Jin-Bok delivered a detailed report on his recent mission to Korea. He exhorted the leadership team on the mindset needed to navigate the new era, focusing on the two-pronged strategy presented by Rev. Ken Doo, Director of the World Mission Headquarters.

To conclude the day, National Leader Rev. Jin-Bok, alongside Vice National Leader Rev. Kouakou Yao Robert and Secretary-General Pastor Amichia Joseph, distributed souvenir gifts to all 25 leaders in attendance, congratulating them on their hard work and encouraging them for their upcoming responsibilities.
