Japan's Prime Minister Kishida and Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos, Jr. had a successful visit that strengthened our commitment to the security of both nations regarding their concerns about increased security threats including China's aggressive behavior in the South and East China Seas. What adjustments of thinking and policy should be undertaken in the wake of that meeting?

Join Lt. Gen. Wallace ‘Chip’ Gregson (USMC ret), former Commanding General of the Marine Corps Forces Pacific and Marine Corps Forces Central Command; and former Assistant Secretary of Defense for Asian and Pacific Security Affairs, along with former six-party talks envoy Amb. Joseph DeTrani and Georgetown University security studies professor Dr. Alexandre Mansourov as they examine national strategy options in a world grown more perilous than ever before.
