South Korea's Security Concerns
About U.S. Policy

TUESDAY, AUG 5 AT 2 PM ET

U.S. policy toward South Korea includes our military presence and ready defense against North Korean aggression. The alliance is strong, but there are concerns about its permanence and durability in the face of recent tensions, including tariffs and trade issues. The Korean point of view is not necessarily the same as the perspective held by media commentators in the U.S.

Our guest panelist is Dr. John Delury, a China and Korean Peninsula issues specialist and, until recently, a professor at Seoul’s Yonsei University for 12 years.

Panelists also include moderator Amb. Joseph DeTrani, former U.S. special envoy to the six-party talks and Amb. Robert G. Joseph, Senior Scholar at the National Institute for Public Policy.

This forum will be held on Tuesday, Aug 5, 2025 at 2 PM ET, livestreamed on washingtonbrief.org.
