Opening Prayer of Gratitude

Most Honorable Heavenly Parent

Beloved True Parents of HEH

It has already been 120 days since Mother has entered the position of suffering, suffering of Heavenly Parent and True Parents and all BFs and of all things. True Mother is going over this trial with the Love of Heavenly Parent and is embracing this world with Love. With the painful reality, let us be united with Heaven's Heart, repenting for the pasts sins and let this strengthen us, with the teachings of Heaven, let us be born again with ALO and F and one in mind and heart this New Year.

In front of that sacrifice and Love of True Mother, we will be reborn as true filial sons and daughters of Heavenly Parent and True Parents. True Mother has endured every unimaginable hardship until now. Let us unite and do devotion so that True Father can come down and wishing for the completion of Providence Eldest daughter with 2 other siblings to take care... I was especially happy because my parents stayed home but after Covid they went traveling and felt lonely with no one to lean on and went to Cheon Shim Won to take to HPs about it and relieved the knots in my hand...

2023 I was able to come to Korea with family and stay for a month... I remember the Cheon Shim Won vigil, and I dozed off a lot at first and although I tried to follow along, it was difficult to shout... went every Friday, but went to meet people rather than offer devotion, but then I hear Mother would come.

While previously just followed, I began to shout for the first time and offer devotion on my own wanting to report that I was doing well, and after meeting Mother a natural devotion arose in me... and watching the testimonies and the trainees praising, I wanted to be with them and told my Parents I wanted to go to Korea.

I applied when I saw the Yeongsong Workshop, but although working hard in my own way, I felt self-reproach that I could be doing more and apology what was lacking in my heart. Suddenly snow fell from the sky and the moment a single snow flake fell on my nose, a surge of emotion came...as if saying, 'Though I am lacking Heavenly Parent loves me.'

Then on the tenth day, we went to the HjoJinJeong and I offered a prayer to feel HyoJN's heart. If I can't feel it here thought I was in trouble.. The song 'One Word' and wondered what that one word was? and thought about HyoJN's love for Parents... Then video played and I saw all my family members praying together and tears and move to a place to cry fully and with regret not being better older sister and daughters and felt the longing of HyoJN and HeungJN for Mother.

How great the grief of HyoJN not to be able to attend as he wishes, claiming the filial piety as his name, but lacking a physical body. The thought that those who fulfill responsibility on earth the SW can work 200%, but HyoJN and AGSs cannot work because of my inadequacy, and the thought, 'I must protect Mother' felt like a bitter longing of HyoJN.

Now able to focus more, I'm contemplating how I can shout like my name 'filial piety' Chunho, 'Filial piety is mine'... and I met a determination to enter the Academy and go on mission and offer all my heart to True Mother... TY for listening...Heavenly Parent and True Parents TY, I love You...

The eldest daughter with 3 sons siblings

My grandfather underwent Seonghwa... Seeing my father leave so early from usual 6am, we were told that our grandfather collapsed, and he was always so strong and bright, so we didn't worry too much but receiving a call that he had ascended and couldn't believe it and my sisters and I wailed. We lit a candle and prayed for him... who had always told my grandmother not to go to the hospital... It was a cardiac infraction. And met my grandmother and laid in bed and it was the very day True Mother called the spirituality trainees for an audience.

Thinking there must be a reason for this, and a bright life enveloped me and my body became warm and a woman's and man's voice overlapped and said, 'It's okay, your grandfather is doing well.' Then I realized those Words were from Heavenly Parent.

Then the Workshop was cancelled but began again. I applied immediately. The lectures were so wonderful and the main coordinator said if the person close to you died, you should think that he is listening with you... I felt regrets for all I could have done, but how much more difficult for Heavenly Parent losing all children... and I want Heavenly Parent no longer to shed sad tears...

My mother came to CP and I climbed to the Holy Grounds Tree and we tried going up there, since you like moving in nature, your tension will be relieved, and I tried to go up as much as possible, and I went to the holy grounds and offering prayers also going down and then felt someone next to me and turned around but no one was there and I thought of my grandfather smiling brightly, and I remembered how my father sat silently but was sad inside.

I felt then so warm like sunshine on me and then my grandfather and also True Father I felt on my right... and as if my hand was held by Someone and my entire body in the cold wind warm... I asked my grandfather what my father's heart was like... wanting to understand a father's heart... It became cold again, but my grandfather said, 'Don't worry. You're doing well'

I thought True Mother would return immediately, but She didn't. Then I thought I must really offer devotion. During this remaining period, I will offer devotion and love for True Mother and strive not to lose my mindset and faith... TY for listening...

International Workshop

participating together with my spouse of Blessing in 2025. Our family faced many difficulties and my parents and older sisters drifted away from the church and I too had struggles with my faith and 2nd gen identity harbored in my heart for such a long time, but felt for the first time Heavenly Parent's Love and my lineage...

At the Cheonil Sanctum, I pledged that I would protect my younger brothers and sister in Taiwan not just my own faith, but that faded with all the persecution and struggled to prove myself with ability rather than faith, and actually turned into someone who was criticizing the church.

I felt so ashamed for having broken my promise, having blocked the very path to feel God's Love again, increasingly difficult to love others and only the desire to atone remained in my heart.

One day in the special prayer room, two scenes flashed through y mind. One was a call of True Mother attend True Father when She was young and the other was my family and me attending at the Palace of Cheon jeung Gung... At the moment the Image of True Mother looking at all Her children at the Hall came to mind, but not only looking at me, but my father and mother together, and could feel True Parents have never given up on them and were still awaiting their return... all of our return

There are so many tasks that remain heavily on my heart, but singing the holy song, 'I will Love You Forever' continues for us even with pain for our sake, and that Love entered the depths of my heart through that holy song.

Looking back seeing the protection of Heavenly Parent and my ancestors, and able to complete the journey so far, but never easy, difficult to understand True Father's Heart, feeling so often only like authority and pressure. Every day I offered desperate prayers, but my mind and heart remained very dry.

Then last week, finishing the 12-hour prayer challenge, I mustered courage to confess to True Father, saying I know only by becoming one with You can I protect True Mother, so please help me break down these walls in my heart...

The next day at our intensive prayer gathering, we read the letter that True Mother sent to True Father, and then I understood the meaning and Heart that True Mother has held toward True Father, and also it is what allowed True Mother to march forward without stopping no matter what difficulties...

Over the past ten years, I saw True Mother in Person and received true love, but always thought Mother alone was the one who loved us, but realized the Promise to True Father is also contained and True Father was always by Her Side Looking at us, and I felt the sense of distance from True Father disappear, and a deeper and ever more earnest desire to protect True Mother came within me... tears

Through much prayer and conflict, it felt like Heavenly Parent and True Parents wer saying this to me, 'It's okay. Mummy and Daddy are right here' And it felt like also my own parents, and I began to wonder how they are in pain because my father and mother had drifted from the church...

And the love of True Parents entered my heart as a driving force to love True Parents and everything else... And I am truly happy and grateful that I can respond to love and give love... and while praying at the DC, the moment She entered

'I do not wish for any more people to be sacrificed. I alone am enough.'

The image of True Mother going to the front line between Heavenly Parent and all satanic to protect Her children... and the thought to protect something at the risk of one's life also means parting with what one loves.

True Mother also must have felt the sadness and regret of having to leave Her beloved Family, but still is protecting us with such deep love, resonated greatly in my heart. The words that HeungJN once spoke to the trainees:

'Even if I had a thousand lives, that would not be enough to give to protect True Mother.'

These words remain in my heart. Although I am lacking and unworthy, I truly want to live for True Mother and learn how to love as True Mother loves everyone and everything in this world.

Last year with the heart of wanting to testify to True Mother and support Japan, I participated in the art competition, by the song 'Way Maker' and 'Leave no one behind' art works. received the Gold Rewards, drawn with the 2nd gen...and the Leave no one behind price reward matched the donation money the Association Director hoped for from each family... applause

In the future I want to convey Heavenly Parent and True Parents's love with even more drawings and cultivate the power of love to my parents and brothers and sisters by my side...

I sincerely thank my parents who gave birth to me so that I could meet Heavenly Parent and True Parents as a Blessed child and for all the staff and participants... Heavenly Parent and True Parents I love you TYSM third of one son and three daughters Kunsong Church.

Pak Yu Song

When young thought I wanted to just be normal like everyone else... When asked if I was from a multicultural family, my whole body would turn bright red and I just wanted to hide. When I wrote my parent's name on the paper, I would submit it separately hoping that my mother's name would not be seen.

I had a large birth mark on my right rib, and I was reluctant to go to public baths or swimming pools. I always hated being different from others. I was a disobedient son who would lie to my mother saying she didn't need to come to the school sports day because my friend's parents also were too busy to come, all because I hated people talking about me being multi-cultural.

During middle school history class, when the story of Japanese Colonial Period came up, all would look at me, and I also hated the teacher who said that all Japanese people were bad. is Japanese territory, and I also fought with the people who said the? is that Japanese territory? and I talked back and got slapped in my face... And when the teacher took the friend's side, I felt so wronged...

But there is one thing that I was really good at. It was gaming, so good that my friends would actually pay for my PC room fees to find me. In the game I was always the protagonist, but the joy was only for moment. In reality, my life was becoming diseased due to gaming addiction.

After confrontation with my teacher, I built a wall against studying due to that trauma. I couldn't talk about my worries with my mother, because I didn't want to sadden her.

The church was always the place I attended because I was afraid of my father, but still I somehow felt angry when someone insulted the church. When a Christian friend suggested I go to their church, I would think if I go to church at all, I would rather go to my church. Yet, the only thing I actually knew was that our church does good work.

After graduation from high school, I spent all my time just gaming and started living on my own like an ordinary person, gaming after coming home from work. At first, I thought I was happy because I was free, but my relation with others was only confronting them with gaming.

When I thought of why I was like this, I thought of my middle school teacher and hated him. Gaming was the only happiness, but at the same time it made reality more difficult. I couldn't fall asleep except if I was exhausted from gaming. My health deteriorated and things happened one after another until I contacted my parents, wrapped everything up and came back to my home, and they encouraged me to go to the 40-day Workshop.

At first, I had no intention to go, but while attending the Cheon Shim Won vigil devotion with my mother and younger sister, despite having been inactive for five years, the moment I saw the holy portrait of True Parents during the one-heart resonance prayer, tears poured out with no reason. Not even knowing how to pray, I only repeated the words, 'I'm sorry.'

Wanting to know the reason for these tears, I decided to join the Workshop. I cut off alcohol, cigarettes and worldly friends and entered the training. Because I lived a life incorrectly until then, I cleaned the bathrooms with a grateful heart of repentance, wishing to sacrifice and serve.

When the opportunity arose to be the group leader and student leader, I served with a grateful heart and did my best. In that process, I received great grace. And continuing my devotion for my Mother, at the devotion and Workshop, it felt like a miracle that I, who used to be only gaming, was now sharing stories about my family and True Parents. For the first time, I felt that my family had become one.

I also quit gaming, which had been my greatest sickness. And I talked to younger members about the grace I received at Workshop.

And feel that I needed to know more about True Parents and be of help to other inactive youth nd members, I joined the 18th Spirituality Workshop. There were many difficulties, but just before the application deadline, my father said, 'Just go for now' and I was able to enter.

During the intensive prayer meeting, the words of the Director that we received this Workshop as representatives of ancestors who did not know True Parents, and that we must receive it with a sense of mission and responsibility, sounded to me like, 'Receive this with responsibility for inactive youth like yourself.'

Therefore, even in the moments when I thought I was doing well during the Workshop, I approached it thinking that it is not enough and I should do more... During a lecture on the Life Course of True Mother, I thought of my own mother who sacrificed everything to come to Korea and raise Her children without knowing She was in pain, overlapped with True Mother Who went forward with bandages wrapped around Her pained Knees. Only then I realized what unconditional love is.

I was told that when True Parents risked Their Lives to visit KIm Il Sung, They embraced him to forgive and love the enemy who had killed countless brothers and sisters in North Korea. Seeing that Image of True Parents, I felt to forgive the teacher in Middle School, and also every lyric of the holy song went into my heart and centering on them rather than myself, I could change.

Everyone has different course, but if there are members like my past, I will want to step forward and help them. TY for saving me and teaching me how to live, and I want to save even one more person for making the right environment.

youngest of 4 children Blessed family

Beloved Mother,

How are You. I am Tagakochi Mikako... attending the spirituality Workshop. I came to know the Love of Heavenly Parent and True Parents in my 3rd year of high school. Until then I grew up in an environment where my older siblings were not by my side. My parents practiced their life diligently but I lived without knowing the purpose of life and knowing Heavenly Parent and True Parents for myself, and seeing my parents grieve for my older brothers and sisters leaving, I felt the Heart of Heavenly Parent.

To be honest, I also had desire to leave, but the thought of the more sorrow to my parents was too much, and at least I must follow this path. Feeling that the ancestors were working and this was because of a deep regret that I had not attended my grandmother more, even she would ask for a shoulder massage and I would do it out of annoyance, or not do it at all, and the thought resonated in my heart that if I compromised with my standards now toward True Mother now, I would feel such greater regret, and I felt my grandmother helping me know that, and I want to not fear anything in attending True Mother, until my body cannot move.

I had always called myself a person with no ability, and when my efforts were not recognized, I became unable to love people, but through the process of learning Mother's Heart of deep pain, Mother was victorious even amidst ridicule and contempt, and gave birth the children in poor and suffering environments and even with the pain of betraying children, and to keep Her Promise to father through countless trials and persecutions, and situations You could not speak of even if You wanted to, and I realized we must feel such a Heart of a Mother and become one with You.

Although I was unable to love others due to my loneliness I came to see how much of a love being I truly am, and by the love I received I'm so happy living a life of attending, and I think it is found as a life of entering Mother's Heart and becoming like that Heart that each of us must realize for ourselves, with Mother's Thought becoming our thoughts...

The Image of Mother singing and HyoJN singing was truly beautiful and tears flowed... and whenever I sing, 'I Love You' I miss Mother even more, and inheriting HyoJN's love for Mother, I intend to serve as an academy student and doing what I can for Mother and to become like Mother continue to realize things and live for the sake of others.

Although my older brother and sister are far away from True Parents, I believe there is a path for them, a miracle can happen, and I will not give up and will move forward without fear and go forward until the end. Mother I love You and TY and I earnestly pray for Your swift return to the Palace. TYSM

One world of culture of heart, that's our dream. When I was in Heungnam Prison, my mother had obtained 18 different tickets just to come from Jeongju to see Me and then leave. My mother would bring roasted grain powder because I was her Son. Was there any rice to make it? She went around every neighborhood to beg for it, and to relatives, explaining how pitiful her son had been in and please have compassion, and as well, made me clothes, and I gave that all away immediately and she instead saw me wear the ragged eroded clothes in the cold wind. How sad must she have been.

I know many of you have offered devotions and sacrifices for our church. Beyond the OT and NT and CTA, to create the environment to welcome the True Parents, many marches and to create a culture of Cheon Il Guk, even if you don't have professional knowledge I hope much can come from the depths of your heart to attend Heavenly Parent and True Parents...

I promised Heavenly Parent that I would fulfill God's Purpose of the Ideal of Creation, and for that I will not change, and on the day of ascension He said he is so grateful and so apologetic. And I hope for no drop outs... He was not a Person Who should have gone such a difficult path. The True Parents' should not have started from Prison, but because human beings were blind and could not fulfill He had to go that Way... There is no one who has live such a life and achieved so much as True Father... Let us all go that way...

Pres. Lee Gi-seong's Message

Grateful for this 1,486th devotion.

With the devotion of the True Father and with some VIP's and the devotion members together...

At the DC 177th day, they are offering devotion despite the very cold weather and representing all of us and sent the message:

After 18 weeks of True Mother detained and today the generator that was broken was fixed and we can turn on our monitor and heating and have gratitude...

Our elder members prayer team and about 70 people gathered. True Mother for peace and harmony of all humanity offered Her entire Life, sacrificing so much, and finally opened the Gates of Cheon Il Guk wide. Tonight is 1,486th devotion and we offer with all our hearts, HMH True Mother may Your Holy Body be healthy and please find peace this night... great applause..

Today, worldwide, we are connected with about 43,000

Letter

Today True Mother 127th day... the cosmic cross She holds alone, we ministers are unable to wield that cross, but despite that each and every member resolving to hold it in Her place, and take responsibility, 127 of our members offer devotion. We must finish our work in H Japan as Chairman Hori said. True Mother, please do not worry, we will become direct children who walk a step in front of You. Please look at us. Please have faith in us.

conclusion of letter

Although a lonely church, offering deep devotion and summoning Heavenly Parent and AGSs to work...

They had their intensive prayer centered on praise, and it was so graceful... and we had vigil devotion along with that praise. With a culture of praise, the culture of heart True Parents desire, little by little we can achieve it... If we offer praise when we are sad or down, the immense power of HPs can be inserted within you. When we communicate within the sorrow of True Father or HeungJN and HyoJN, we can resonate, so don't only offer praise of tears but with loud voice and grateful praise... even if it is a sad song, so that SW AGSs can connect, and the important thing more than words is praise that SW hears...

Because they had one-heart prayer session centered on praise, there is an all-day-long preparation for this... Those who came today may have seen how hard they work in the practice and then participate in the evening program... so not just to judge any mistake, and not must time to plan and settle all these vigils... It is like a miracle to perpetuate this...

So, though we couldn't first reach ten, now 43,000 and if included with those attending the recordings later, that number increases dramatically. The subjective SW and objective PW with all our generations coming together, Cheon Il Guk will be established, and no matter how we are persecuted, it will come.

So, yesterday became the 58th Anniversary of Chungmo nim's ascension... From 1991 Nov 30 to Dec 7 from Kiongjon to Kyeongju, True Father visited Chungmo nim's grave, and while saying that He cannot weep, and the day we can weep with a heart of ease, that day coming is our responsibility, so we can unify the N and S so that everyone can praise our True Parents and our Chungjo nim... True Father said to love your tribe and nation above your family... and Cjungmo nim left words that no ordinary people can say.

Although I'm the Son of Korea and before I'm the Son of Korea, I'm the Son of Heaven, not first the Son of Chungmo nim. In My Life, I never bought my mother cloth or anything. I would sell the clothes I wore for the loyalty of this nation. Unless I do that, I cannot praise my mother, but must live such a Life like that. As the invisible Substantial Heavenly Parent, we must know that Heavenly Parent walked the path of the Providence with the title of the Returning Messiah, and no one will be able to deny His Title.

You heard many beautiful testimonies, yes? from our East Africa, spirituality trainees, to match the level of HQ Cheon Shim Won, how much devotion. Today the testimony, I believe she offered astonishing devotion...

Today the song 'Up Hill' we must all offer devotion to go up and reach that peak, with truly loving. And she could feel the physical warmth in the cold (and we wish that for True Mother)... And the praise that might have broken the stage... and the standard of sincere prayer that True Parents could enter her heart. True Mother's Request was written by a Taiwanese member... Testimony of isolation and slap in the face by teacher... Although such teachers would not exist today, they did then... And just looking on the portrait of True Parents, he shed tears...

Even if you're 30, it's not too late... and finding that the truly happy life is true attendance to Heavenly Parent and True Parents... These young people are our hope...

All BFs as well as youth must take on the mission of spreading that faith...

Prayer and Team

with what kind of Heart and Patience and Prayer are You enduring these days... Our incompetence before our responsibility... When we think how Mother is enduring and for the chosen people to know the Epic, and where to put ourselves, but You have promised that many good things will happen... How can we lift our heads? Since we believe that there is grace after trial, (please guide us to be what we need to be in this time)... Heavenly Parent, please hold us, (as we hold on to You) in this precious GA, not just watching or not silent, please us be the H warriors of fulfillment of Your Will...

Are there still children sleeping, we believe in the power of Cheon Shim Won... and devotions and let us all (make the free choice of our true desire) who return joy and glory to Heaven... (our happiness in doing that) building the altar of Cheon Shim Won devotion higher and higher... Please answer the prayers... and no matter how many times we stumble, we will stand again, and please grant us courage (and wisdom) If we complain, it is hell. Let us be grateful for all this course, in a faith not cowardly, but bold (in Who our Parents are to proclaim) Please look upon this country with mercy...

We believe that the trials can be converted to the glory of Heaven and move the SW for great works as the Will of HMM and us and HyoJN and HeungJN spirit become one... Health and infinite Love of Heaven be unto all members at the DC and here... longevity of True Mother and for Her return...
