

UPF UK: Statement on Recent Attacks Against Religious Communities

Robin Marsh
October 7, 2025

The Universal Peace Federation (UPF) UK strongly condemns all acts of violence and intolerance directed toward individuals or places of worship because of their faith. Such attacks wound not only the immediate victims but also the fabric of our society. Freedom of religion and belief is a cornerstone of human dignity and must be protected without exception.

UPF-UK affirms that true peace can only be built upon mutual respect, empathy, and the recognition that humanity is one family under God. We call upon people of all faiths - and none - to stand together against hatred, prejudice, and division. Every church, mosque, synagogue, temple, and gurdwara should be a place of safety, reflection, and community.

In this time of grief and uncertainty, we urge leaders and citizens alike to rededicate themselves to dialogue, compassion, and shared responsibility for the common good. UPF-UK remains committed to fostering interfaith understanding and cooperation as the surest path to peace in our homes, communities, and nations.
