Dear WFWP-GWPN members, friends, and supporters,

In commemoration of the UN Day of Public Service, WFWP USA will host a GWPN Forum on the theme “Vision to Action: How to Start Changing the World.”

Changing the world begins with a pivotal question: How do you start? As Mother Moon wisely puts it, “Creating peace is like unraveling a ball of tangled yarn; it is difficult to find where to begin. But nothing will be accomplished by sitting with arms crossed.” This forum seeks to answer that question as speakers share with participants how they turned aspirations into actionable plans. How can you identify starting points, set achievable goals, and sustain your efforts to create meaningful impact?

The journey also involves daily intentionality and mindfulness. Reflecting on Mother Moon's approach, "I open my eyes at daybreak and begin each day with prayer and meditation. I think very carefully about what I will do for whom, and then I act on that," we ask: How can you align your daily actions with broader goals? This forum will explore how leaders implemented purposeful reflection and action to ensure every step they took contributed to their mission of changing the world. Join us to discover how to harness your vision, develop a focused plan, and make a tangible difference in your community and beyond.

June 27, at 5 PM PT/ 6 PM MT/ 7 PM CT/ 8 PM ET

We invite you to join us and RSVP below:

Sincerely,
