

WFWP USA: HerTribes Launched - Let's Empower Even More Women

Kaeleigh Moffitt
December 10, 2024

With your support, we launched 25 new HerTribes: safe spaces where women gather, thrive, and transform together!

In each HerTribe, women come together in small groups, fostering deep connections, sharing life experiences, and finding new strength in the power of community. Every gathering offers a chance to reconnect, reflect, and be empowered through one another's stories and support.

"I didn't understand the impact of how important this was until we started talking together. These HerTribe gatherings are a time for women to relax, center ourselves, feel empowered by Mother Moon's words, and then go out into the world and do what we need to do."

— HerTribe Host

Stories like these remind us why HerTribe matters. Every Tribe creates a ripple effect—empowering women to find their voices, connect more deeply with themselves and each other, and make lasting changes in their lives and communities.

Imagine the possibilities if even more women could experience the transformative power of HerTribe. That's why, as we close out this year, we are asking for your help to meet our fundraising goal. Together, we can launch more Tribes next year and continue creating spaces where women can gather, grow, and thrive.

Will you support HerTribe and help women find the strength of community? Your donation directly impacts the growth of our Tribes, ensuring more women have access to these empowering spaces.
