Victorious Life of Danielle Nagle

Danielle (Vuilleumier) Nagle was born on July 9, 1961, in Switzerland. She joined the Unification Church in Geneva, Switzerland in 1981. Rino Regati is her spiritual father. During her time there, she became an accomplished fundraiser.

In 1983, a large group of European members were called to the United States, and Danielle was posted in Cheyenne, Wyoming, where she witnessed and raised funds. She was matched to Peter Nagle on April 4, 1987. After the matching, Danielle moved to the Pueblo, Colorado Church center where, among other things, she worked as an assistant to Lorette de Mar. Beginning during her time in Colorado, she came to view Bob Beebe as a spiritual parent.

Danielle and Peter were blessed in Korea on January 12, 1989. Danielle then joined Peter in Seattle, Washington in 1990 where they started their family. They moved to live in Eagle River, Alaska before finally settling in Homer, Alaska. Danielle home schooled all of her sons: Simon (now 23), Yuri (22), James and Mark (18), and Remi (15).

For as long as Danielle was able, she grew vegetables and raised chickens, and was extremely adept at butchering moose and other fish and game. She was the epitome of the wood-splitting, water-hauling frontier woman. She also loved classical music, enjoyed playing piano, and became skilled at making marquetry pictures and cards, which Peter sold all over Alaska. In 2003, Danielle began a long battle with breast cancer which ended on October 12, 2013.
