Barrytown College is the undergraduate Bachelor of Arts degree program at the Unification Theological Seminary

"Authentic, Caring, Creative"

Richard A. Panzer

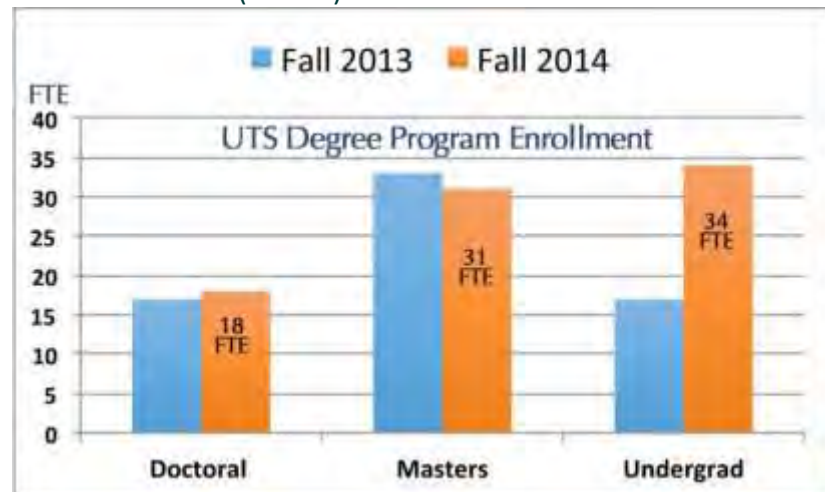

October 20, 2014

"Authentic. Caring. Creative." That is the way Dr. Noda, Dean of the College, described the kind of identity we want to support in students who have enrolled at Barrytown College of UTS at the Fall Family Weekend. I think many of our students are exactly that. But you can judge for yourself in the following video!

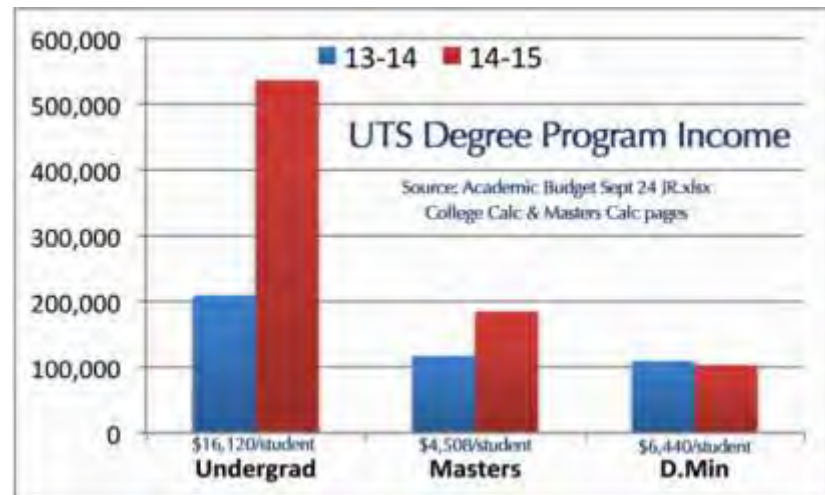

Why They Chose Barrytown College!

Since many of you are becoming contributors, it's important for you to know our most recent figures. Recruiting for the Masters program is 55 enrolled with 31 FTE. New doctoral enrollment is 18 (18 FTE). We have 37 undergrad students (34 FTE) compared with 19 students (17 FTE) in Fall 2013.

Recruiting for the undergraduate program achieved 80% of its goal of 45 enrolled students (37 enrolled, 34 FTE achieved vs. 44 FTE projected). The successful sale of the riverfront property has allowed us to restart renovations of the East Wing, which will be completed in the coming months.

The following chart shows tuition income from the Undergraduate, Masters and D.Min. programs. Even though the Undergraduate program is just in its 2nd year, it is already bringing substantially more income, offering the promise that in the coming years it will be able to help support the institution as a whole.

Next steps include the formation of a joint UTS/HSA committee to make recommendations for revising the UTS Mission Statement to more clearly indicate its key purpose of preparing and training current and future leaders to more effectively serve the Unificationist and other faith communities.

I invite you to join with us to ensure that Barrytown will continue to be a place for spiritual and intellectual development for new generations to come.
