

I Had a Paradigm SHIFT

Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, before Abraham was, I am."
John 8:58

The era after the coming of heaven cannot come about based on the fallen lineage. I am completely unrelated to the fall... You may think to yourselves, "Father was also born of the fallen bloodline. How is he different from us? We can always take his place." But that is the wrong view. "Called to Be Messiahs" 5/19/2011

Where I came from is different than where you come from. I am fundamentally different from you. After I found the secrets of heaven and earth, I have lived accordingly. "Going Beyond 13 Summits" 7/19/2012

Greetings!

I recently asked a brother on Facebook the following question:

Imagine that one of your children known to be a kind, compassionate and loving person suddenly starts speaking out emphatically and urgently about something, even shouting sometimes. Would you assume that there was something wrong with her, or would you try to understand what moved her to speak out strongly?

Brothers and sisters are understandably upset and shocked to hear Hyung Jin Nim's harsh words about Mother, but shouldn't they be asking themselves WHY a son who was known to be kind, compassionate and loving, so much so that he was called "Lovey," suddenly started to speak out so strongly?

This is the theme of a new essay by Jim Stephens, I had a "paradigm shift." which follows:

How can Sanctuary supporters and Family Federation members have such totally different (even opposite) understandings of the truth about Mother (Mrs. Moon)? I think it might help to talk about the concept of "paradigm shift." I first learned about it from Steven Covey in his book, The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People. Here is a personal example from his own life (pp. 30-31 of his book) in which he describes a time he had a "paradigm shift."

I remember a mini-paradigm shift I experienced one morning on a subway in New York. People were sitting quietly - some reading newspapers, some lost in thought, some resting with their eyes closed. It was a calm, peaceful scene.

Then suddenly, a man and his children entered the subway. The children were so loud and rambunctious that instantly the whole climate changed.

The man sat down next to me and closed his eyes, apparently oblivious to the situation. The children were yelling back and forth, throwing things, even grabbing people's papers. It was very disturbing. And yet, the man sitting next to me did nothing.

It was difficult not to feel irritated. I could not believe that he could be so insensitive as to let his children run wild like that and do nothing about it, taking no responsibility at all. It was easy to see that everyone else on the subway felt irritated, too. So finally, with what I felt was unusual patience and restraint, I turned to him and said, "Sir, your children are really disturbing a lot of people. I wonder if you couldn't control them a little more."

The man lifted his gaze as if to come to a consciousness of the situation for the first time and said softly, "Oh, you're right. I guess I should do something about it. We just came from the hospital where their mother died about an hour ago. I don't know what to think, and I guess they don't know how to handle it either."

Can you imagine what I felt at that moment? My paradigm shifted. Suddenly I saw things differently, and because I saw differently, I thought differently, I felt differently, I behaved differently. My irritation vanished. I didn't have to worry about controlling my attitude or my behavior; my heart was filled with the man's pain. Feelings of sympathy and compassion flowed freely. "Your wife just died? Oh, I'm so sorry! Can you tell me about it? What can I do to help?" Everything changed in an instant.

In Sunday's Sanctuary Service, Hyung Jin Nim explained how we are living in a time of rapid transition, where the entire world order is being rearranged. At the time of direct dominion, those in power who misuse their authority will quickly be judged.

Eric & Lara Trump Visiting Tommy Gun Warehouse

Brothers and sisters in Japan were shocked when the Family Dept. head in Nagano publicly resigned and became the Sanctuary leader for the area. Several FFWPU leaders in Japan were recently driven to take their own lives. The sad truth is that they were leading others to separation from Father, ie. Hell.

In order to distract brothers and sisters from the reality of their rebellion against Father's authority, FFWPU conducts large events, empty displays of their decaying, illusory power. With donations declining, they have to liquidate more and more property...

On a more positive note, Hyung Jin Nim shared about recent events including a visit by Eric Trump, the 32 year-old son of presidential candidate, Donald Trump, to the Kahr Arms factory and Tommy Gun warehouse in

William Gaigg Praise Painting based on Rev. 21:21-22

Greeley, PA. This visit was unexpected, but Hyung Jin Nim said, evidence of how Father is working in the spirit world to connect the macrocosm of national/international events and the microcosm within the Unification Movement.

The Ancestor Liberation that will take place on October 30, 2016 will include the spirits of all unborn children whose lives ended before their birth. Expect Satan to throw a temper tantrum...

It is not by our own deeds that we belong to God's Kingdom. It is because we belong to the Father's lineage, a gift that is an "amazing grace!"

Hyung Jin Nim invited Kerry Williams up to the podium to share her powerful lecture on "The Long Journey of the Seed of God's Lineage."
