Title: "Working Together for Peace and Development for a Resilient and Sustainable Future for Generations to Come"

Headline: "What women, youth and civil society can bring to the table to support the UN SDGs for 2030 to ensure no one is left behind."

This initiative was born amidst Covid 19 lockdown, An ideal platform to break the cycle of isolation specially for young people..

It is a platform for dialogue and exchange and at the same time it is a platform of inspiration and learning from the sharing of experiences and best practices. Likeminded peace-loving men and women, specially young people have the opportunity to participate and amplify their voices in society regardless of where they come from. And this "Meet and Greet" online platform is a fantastic tool to do it. "I absolutely agree that each of us has a divine responsibility to be peacemakers and builders of a better future world for all". So with consistency, determination and hardworks and by working together with a sincere collaborative efforts. I believe through this attitude, can help fulfill the UN Sustainable Development Goals projected to 2030 leaving no one behind..

Join us!

And be one of our next speakers!!
