TRANSFORMING LIVES: WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A MEMBER OF WFWP

Behind every face and every voice in WFWP, there is a story. There are stories of women and men who have been investing their hearts into this organization for the past 27 years, as well as those who became inspired to become a member of WFWP just this past month after being touched by a particular person or event, and everyone in between! The collective wealth of all our experiences is a precious treasure that we can offer to the world and use to shine a ray of hope into all its darkest corners.

Mrs. Susan Nishio:

I wanted to share about the 500-voice choir during the rally. I have been participating as an alto singer, not only this time in LA, but also at several previous events, in Madison Square Garden (3,000 voice choir) and Nassau Coliseum (5,000 voice choir), and also at the 80,000 people rally in Korea for the Reunification of North and South Korea in 2016.
