

CARP Las Vegas' Fall Semester Kickoff Two Day Divine Principle Workshop

Akira Watanabe
September 22, 2017

On September 22, 2017 CARP Las Vegas kicked off their Fall semester with its first Two Day Divine Principle Workshop. A total of three guests attended the workshop from both the UNLV chapter and the CSN chapter. Two young adults from LVFC also attended. The theme of the workshop was “Peace Starts With Me” which empowered all of us to bring a new revolution of love in our world through growing ourselves as individuals. The first evening welcomed everyone with sports, icebreakers and family time.

On Saturday, we enjoyed the fresh, fall morning with a prayer activity. One guest shared a new desire to pray and continue building a relationship with God while another guest shared it was the first time he could share freely to God. After, we received Divine Principle lectures from Jonathan Jesper in the morning and Thanh Le in the afternoon. Their passionate lectures and youthful spirit inspired us all and planted the seed for new guests to want to continue studying the Principle. Finally, we closed the night sharing testimonies over a bonfire and Thanh shared how the Divine Principle transformed his life. It was a beautiful experience we shared together in this Two Day Workshop. We are excited to come together with CARP Bay Area and CARP LA for our Regional Workshop this October!

