DENUCLEARIZATION POSSIBILITIES?

Prospects for a Denuclearized Korea in the Current Climate

Tuesday, May 16, 2 – 3 PM EST (New York Time)

Dear,

Have the recent State visits by President Yoon of the Republic of Korea to the U.S. and then by Japanese Prime Minister Kishida to Korea changed the regional diplomatic environment in Northeast Asia? With the top leaders of Japan and Korea engaging in an active shuttle diplomacy, followed by ROK President Yoon clearly aligning with the U.S. and signing the Washington Declaration, is a new Cold War brewing in the region? Join us for an interesting discussion between two of the foremost experts and long-standing observers of Asia on the prospects for denuclearization on the Korean peninsula.
