

This dream is related to Dr. Chung Sik Yong's Morning Devotion on Absolute Sex

Ali Mahjoub
December 23, 2020

I had a dream this morning at dawn

Dr. Yong Morning Devotion works!

I believe the dream is related to Dr. Yong Morning Devotion on Absolute Sex.

After this Morning Devotion session I felt so sleepy and curled myself on the floor and fell asleep and then I had this dream..

I dreamt my mother sent me to our next door house to borrow something, salt, or garlic, but I feel it was salt. as I walked towards our next door house, a close relative, suddenly a lady was walking right behind me, and I thought the lady was the lady my mother sent me to. So, we greeted each other and told her that my mother sent me to her to borrow something, I realized I forgot the item my mother wanted. so I started to apologize to the lady and felt a little embarrassed. The lady was nice and said don't worry about it and continued to lead me to her house. The lady took me for a tour around her community. the houses were strangely built like cement blocks in amber like color and were 10-12 meters high and 5-6 meters wide and 10-12 long, with no windows, and were situated on a hill, block after block.

As we get to the lady's house, I asked her if I can use her phone to call my mother to ask her what she wanted me to borrow, then I asked the lady maybe she can phone my mother. the lady seemed to accept my request. as she was opening her door, I realized I was wearing a shirt buttoned way down, like a gigolo does, I quickly buttoned my shirt in respect for the lady. as she opened the door and went in, out of respect for her and her house, I stood outside and didn't want to get into the house to be alone with her. not to mention the neighbors were watching.

The lady was on the phone with my mother and I watched her as she was talking to my mother. then she came out of the house and handed me something wrapped in a luminal foil and I felt it was salt. We Unificationists know what Salt is for.

But here is a strange thing the lady did to me. after she handed to me the item, I thanked her and walked away. suddenly the lady touched my back, as if she was taking/cleaning something off, then she circled beneath my legs and brushed slightly against my sexual organ, Then I like being hypnotized. I felt blinded and paralyzed, I couldn't move nor see where I am going. I woke struggling to move my body and clearing my eyes. wow! what a dream! I must admit, I was a sinner, particularly sexual sin, before I joined the Unification Movement. and Dr. Yong Morning Devotion began to wash what was left of my sexual sin. Praise God!