On the 23rd of August in the 9th year of the celestial calendar (Wednesday, September 29, 2021), the 3rd SunHak Historic Compilation Center World History Committee video conference in 2021 was held at 10 am and 4 pm with about 20 historians from around the world participating. It was conducted on two occasions.

At this videoconference, held for the third time in 2021, it was time to report on the establishment of the World Missions Annals until September after the establishment of the world annals registration system on the website of the SunHak Historic Compilation Center opened in April and present examples of excellent activities.

Cho Dong-min, director of the general operation of the SunHak Historical Compilation Center, started the meeting and held the meeting with a thank-you note, saying, "I am grateful that there are history members who are working hard for the record of the providence of Cheon Il-Guk even while they are having difficulties in their activities due to the corona virus."

In April, the website was renewed, and a system was established where members of the world history on the website could easily and conveniently register and revise the annals of the world. When the annals are registered through the homepage, the registered annals are directly applied to the SunHak Translation DB, and improved to enable quick and accurate recording of the annals.

We produced and provided the 'Annals Registration Tutorial Video' on how to register and use the annals to the world historians, and produced and provided a manual for additional use. We have supported the activities of the history committee members.

In addition, to encourage the activities of the history committee members, we prepared a monthly report to check the status of monthly registered annals and the activities of history committee members in each district, and strive to share special activities. In addition, by identifying the districts that have resigned from the office of history committee members and regions where there is no contact or activity at all, the importance of the activities of the world history committee members is re-emphasized to the heads of districts around the world, and official documents and letters requesting the review and re-election of the history committee members in each district are issued. It also requested field support from history committee members.

As a result of these efforts, registration of the annals of world missions started with 68 cases in April, 334 cases in May, 497 cases in June, 855 cases in July, 1,175 cases in August, and 522 cases in September, a total of 2,304 cases were recorded and revised. As time goes by, the number of historians participating in the annals records and the number of registered annals is increasing, which is very encouraging.

After the above report, there was an activity case presentation by Giorgio Gasperoni, a historian from the New Europe 3rd District, who was selected as a member of the history committee for outstanding activities. Giorgio history committee member said, "We asked the busy national leaders to select the right person for the historical record. For example, we contacted the Spanish national leader and set up the Spanish elder family Miguel Cano as the Spanish national history committee member to communicate and record the annals of Spain. are doing." In addition, he said, "I received a report of 253 pages from the Cromwell family, who edited the 2013 Genesis Day Bongjeongmun Book and the European and Middle East weekly newsletter, read them all, selected important content, and established an annals for each region." was shared.

The history committee members who heard the examples were impressed by the hard work of Giorgio Historians who registers the annals with the know-how despite the unfortunate circumstances, and expressed their feelings that they should work harder in the future.

After the meeting, the Continental Headquarters and each district headquarters around the world were asked once again for the importance of the activities of the World History Committee and for the management, support, and re-appointment of the History Committee members, so that the activities of the History Committee members would not be stopped. Together, we plan to continue to report and support the activities of the World History Committee to prepare for active participation.
