

CARP Campaign

Good deeds Workshop

Bucharest, Romania, 21. – 22. May 2016

Greetings from Romania!
We want to share about our last weekend event, the CARP Campaign that we had in the NGO Fest. We would like to offer first our gratitude to our Heavenly Parents and True Parents because we had this chance to participate in this kind of event and share with the others about our projects and activities. We really wanted to share about True Parents' teachings and ideal at a different level.

We just finished the second week of our 40 Days JungSung Condition and we really try to have this serious heart and invest in this direction, to dedicate in everything we do to witness to the others. Our life is JeonDo and JeonDo is our life, so we want to use every opportunity in this sense.

RomaniaCARP is quite new in the NGO field, we are just one year since we registered the organisation in this formula, so we are grateful that we could be in this festival, for two days, Saturday and Sunday, together with over 120 other associations that are working for educating young people, protecting the families and children, working for the human rights and many others. NGO Fest is an annual festival that wants to promote the Non-governmental organisations, help them to create a better image in the society and encourage the informal education through workshops and volunteer activities. The festival was organized in the biggest park in Bucharest, Herastrau, so the atmosphere was really nice, very open and friendly. We were happy to meet so many associations that have this purpose to work for a greater good and help the others, so we made friends with them and in the future we can also create partnerships and support other social activities.

Five from our CARP members and few new guests also joined our blessed families that participated in this campaign, wanting to learn how to live for the others practice true love. We went around the park and we offered candies with a good message from True Father's words to inspire the people, pens with our NGO name; we also made questionnaires, asking to the young people different questions about life, to make them think more seriously on how they can improve themselves. We could get some contacts and make few appointments for the next week with the people that were more interested.

We also participated on the stage with a small artistic moment; our STF brothers and sisters sang the song "Sing", which is about peace and how music can create unity and bring people together, because music is an universal language. Was very beautiful and touching moment.

Also, to make our event more international and intercultural, we brought kimonos, japanesse traditional clothes, so the people could also try them on.

On Sunday, from 17 o'clock we organized Open HoonDokHea; we prepared a text from True Father's speeches about the topic Happiness is a life lived for the sake of the others. We had five new guests that enjoyed the atmosphere and liked our discussions. They will come to visit also our CARP center and participate to other activities. We hope to see them soon!

Was a beautiful weekend and although we couldn't meet just young people, there were people from all the ages, but was a good experience for us and we could learn many things about NGO's and got new ideas on how to promote ourselves.

Thank you so much Heavenly Parents and True Parents.
