New Hope Fishing Workshop

You are warmly invited to a fishing workshop in Porto, Portugal from 3rd to 8th September 2026.

This event marks the third workshop of its kind, offering a unique opportunity to connect with nature, fellow participants, and True Parents' legacy of Ocean Providence. Throughout the program, fishing is presented as both a practical skill and a meaningful spiritual practice.

Participants will experience fishing from beaches, piers, and rivers, while also exploring marine life at low tide and gaining a foundational understanding of knots and rods. Set against the beautiful backdrop of Porto, the workshop provides a balanced blend of hands-on technical training and internal enrichment.

Interested individuals are encouraged to complete the expression of interest form below. While this form does not yet guarantee a spot, it helps the organisers manage numbers and assess varying skill levels; novices are very welcome. Prospective attendees are kindly asked to wait for official confirmation before booking any travel arrangements.

Why would you like to attend this workshop? *

Your answer

Do you have any fishing experience? If so, how much and what kind of fishing? *

Your answer

Do you have any health conditions/ impairments we should know about? *

(We expect to be out for long periods of the day, including a lot of walking/standing)

Your answer

This year we are exploring the possibility of trying surfing for one day or doing a tour of one of Porto's famous tinned fish factories. These would be approximately an additional cost of €25 (for each or either), which you would pay in addition to the workshop fee. Let us know if you'd be interested!

- I want to try surfing
- I want to attend the tinned fish tour
- I want to do both
- I just want to fish!

Any additional comments?
