

Côte d'Ivoire commemorates the National Day of Peace with messages of peace

Saye Lazare Aka
November 15, 2018

Every year, since 1996, Côte d'Ivoire commemorates the National Day of Peace on November 15th. On this occasion, the government and civil society organizations are carrying out many activities to promote peace.

Thus, the CEMF Côte d'Ivoire has invited all the organizations affiliated to it to deliver messages of peace mediated to the people.

The 6 messages from the different organizations (including a message from UPF Côte d'Ivoire) were read in front of the national media; including television and state radio (RTI) a Radio journalist; a print journalist and an online press reporter.

The messages read at this activity will be broadcast in the media on November 14, 15 and 16, 2018.

Every year, since 1996, Côte d'Ivoire commemorates the National Day of Peace on November 15th. On this occasion, the government and civil society organizations are carrying out many activities to promote peace.

Thus, the CEMF Côte d'Ivoire has invited all the organizations affiliated to it to deliver messages of peace mediated to the people.

The 6 messages from the different organizations (including a message from UPF Côte d'Ivoire) were read in front of the national media; including television and state radio (RTI) a Radio journalist; a print journalist and an online press reporter.

The messages read at this activity will be broadcast in the media on November 14, 15 and 16, 2018.