

Easter CARP Workshop

Colle Mattia, Rome, Italy, 3. – 6. April 2015

By Giuseppe Cali

Like every year, in Italy we organize a C.A.R.P. workshop to bring together all the young members of our movement that are 18+ and to spend some time together, learning new things and inspire each other.

The workshop has been held in Colle Mattia, our church center in Rome. There were about 30 participants who could come to join the workshop from all over Italy.

The arrival day we had dinner together and then the brothers got the chance to bind and to have some time together by playing football.

The next day we had the opportunity to hear some lectures from Martin Alexy about the brother-sister relationship and about the life of faith. After the lectures there was the chance to discuss about it in groups, and everyone could really appreciate the atmosphere in those discussions and I believe that we could all learn something from each other through them.

We also had the chance to hear lectures from Giuseppe Cali about the vision 2020 applied to young people, and on Sunday we joined the community for the Sunday service was held.

An other lecture was given by Agostino Rossi, talking about a particular life episode that True Father went through, explaining the heart he had in that situation.

All over it has been a very valuable workshop, despite the weather, that didn't allow us to do any activity in the open air. I believe everyone could gain something from the workshop and establish stronger relationships with each other.
