Featured Article:
Our Sacred Bond with Nature
By Lisa Miller

This week’s Earth News from the Heart reminds us that real environmental care starts within. In her reflection, Dr. Lisa Miller shows how our moments of connection with animals awaken something deeper — love, gratitude, and a natural desire to protect life. When we allow ourselves to feel this bond, caring for the Earth becomes an act of the heart, not just responsibility.

If this message moves you, we invite you to help share more stories that nurture hope, compassion, and a renewed love for nature.
