May is a month during which many nations celebrate Mother's Day and reflect upon the love, sacrifice, and devotion shared within the family. Here in Korea, the homeland of our faith, this season carries a special depth of meaning, as Children's Day, Parents' Day, and Teachers' Day follow one after another, offering us occasions to express our heartfelt gratitude to family members and to all who have walked alongside us on the journey of our life.

In this beautiful month of May, I pray that the love and grace of our Heavenly Parent may rest ever more fully upon the blessed families of the world, so that every home may be filled with the fragrance of gratitude and happiness.

Suspension of Detention for Dr. Hak Ja Han Extended by One Month, Through June 30

The Seoul Central District Court has extended the suspension of detention for Family Federation leader Dr. Hak Ja Han by one more month.

Presiding Judge Woo In-sung approved her request for the extension today.

The suspension was set to end on the 30th of this month. It now runs until 2 p.m. on June 30.

The reason given is hospital treatment.

Since her detention began last September, her health has gotten worse. Her lawyers have asked the court to suspend her detention several times.

In November last year and February this year, she was treated for injuries from falls and had glaucoma surgery.

In March, the court approved a suspension so she could get treatment for her shoulder. She has been on trial while temporarily released.

At a hearing in February, her lawyer said that after three separate falls, the pain had spread through her whole body and painkillers were no longer enough.

The lawyer added that she could not get proper treatment inside the detention center. She needed to be hospitalized or cared for by a dedicated nurse.

Grateful for the suspension. However she should be released, after almost a year they have not been able to make a case .

Reed Darsey @ReedDarsey · 12h
If her time in the detention center needs months in a hospital to recover from, then it makes no sense to EVER have to go back there. It couldn't be more obvious.

Pattie S @ThePattiest1 · 16h
I'm grateful that her hospital stay was extended again. In all of this madness, there is some sense. The court listened to the medical experts' opinion that Mother Han needs at least 2 months to recover after her surgery to repair the shoulder injury she received in detention

The Supreme Court dismissed the petition to recuse Judge Mayi Okino, who is handling the special appeal regarding the dissolution order against the Family Federation.

The reason given was that "the circumstances related to this petition cannot be said to hinder the fairness of the trial."

In 2024, Judge Okino stated at a seminar hosted by the Japan Federation of Bar Associations that the church's proselytizing and indoctrination activities are "fundamentally problematic in themselves."

This seminar also featured core members of the National Network of Lawyers Against Spiritual Sales, a group critical of the church.

The Japan Federation of Bar Associations is an organization aligned with the anti-church movement that has long engaged in abductions, confinements, and forced deconversion of Unification Church believers.

Civil courts have recognized the liability for damages of deprogrammers who confined believers.

A person who shared the stage with that faction is now deciding whether to approve the dissolution.

Can it truly be said that this does not undermine the fairness of the trial?

Furthermore, the statements from former believers submitted by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology as evidence remain unaddressed despite suspicions of fabrication.

This is not merely a matter of defending a single religious group. A massive hole of distrust has opened up in the very fairness of the judiciary itself.

The Supreme Court dismissed the motion to recuse Judge Mayi Okino.

I am not disappointed; if a dissolution occurs after deliberation by someone whose fairness is in question, it simply leaves the objective impression that the judiciary was indeed corrupt after all.

The First Petty Bench has issued this, stating that the presiding judge, who has unilaterally interpreted the doctrine, is deemed capable of making a fair and impartial
