In Vancouver, Canada, Family Federation members carried out a "Mother of Peace Loves You" community clean-up, putting Holy Mother Han's message of love into action through practical service.

Following Sunday service, first- and second-generation members joined together wearing specially prepared campaign T-shirts and spent approximately one hour collecting litter from surrounding public areas. The group filled nine large garbage bags and visibly improved the neighborhood.
The activity strengthened unity across generations while allowing participants to experience the joy of serving others and caring for their community.

Organizers also reached out to a local newspaper in Richmond to share the initiative with a wider audience, with an article expected to be published.

Through this simple but meaningful act of service, members demonstrated how Holy Mother Han's love can be expressed through tangible actions, while laying a foundation for continued community outreach and positive public engagement.

This gathering reflects the Peace Starts With Me (PSWM) Alliance's commitment to advancing a culture of peace through neighborly service, generational unity, and community responsibility in line with the vision of "One Family Under God."
