

Leaving all things behind, we follow God's voice.

CSG pg. 893, Chapter 2, 'What kind of place is the Spirit World', 'Unification Church members are not without value. We are not a simple group that believes we can go to heaven just by going to Sunday service with the Bible under our arm or by giving a few pennies in donation. That is for simple folks. That is not for people as intense as us. Once we believe in something, we do it till the end. Placing our life on the line, even if our spouse grabs us to prevent us from following, we are so intense. We follow the path of faith, even if there is the risk of it leading to divorce.' (121-70, 1982.10.24)

I have talked with many people who say, True Father would not abandon his wife of some 50 years even if there were some disagreement between them. They are the True Parents, nothing can separate them. Show me proof, I can't believe you. Anyone who has lived even for one intense moment of life or death knows, offering your life for God and the mission, outshines anything we have experienced during our many years of life. At the moment of total offering, only God and offering our best efforts matter. Only by having a single thought, mind and effort centered upon God's Will, makes the condition through which God's presence can be realized. Nothing else can interfere with our concentration to realize that moment, including our family and spouse. In this statement, True Father can't speak this way unless he has lived by this kind of absolute standard. This is the pathway to put God first in our lives also, following True Father's way and footsteps, at the cost of all else.

True Father does not speak words carelessly or give empty threats to scare people, but He speaks from experience. The one who holds you back from reaching God is not protecting you from harm, but trying to prevent you from doing God's Will. That contrary voice is not from God's side, but the enemy of God and humanity. Those words or actions contrary to the fulfillment of God's Will, even coming from your life long loving partner, is from a selfish desire to keep you from doing that will. That is the point of separation from supporting God's will and from supporting your spouse's desire to realize the words of true life. When disagreeable words become actions, that can be influenced by negative spiritual energy to act against God's direction, that becomes a sin against Heaven.

The point of absolute commitment to follow God's will is the convergence of your being and God's Words of life. This is the perfection level of your unity of mind and body centered upon God's will. This is also the point where both God and Satan invest to see who will win that person's loyalty. This is the point where Satan will try anything to prevent you from following God's Word. This is also the point where you decide to be God's offspring and inheritor as a tree of life. Following God's word is the way of true life eternally, and we must overcome the obstacles of this fallen world to reach our rebirth into God's sons or daughters. Passing over life obstacles brings us to a higher level, a deeper connection to the creator of true love, life and lineage eternally. Your victory over these external obstacles will help pull others over these same limits they feel in their lives. We must follow in the path of the one who has concord all obstacles to reach God that is True Father, the returning Christ. So the words written above, when we first read them we may be shocked, but this is the way to perfect ourselves and be one with God's Will. Every day we stand at this doorway on many levels and have to decide which way we will go. Will we follow God's way or remain under Satan's oppression as slaves to sin? AJU, AMEN, Don from Seattle.
