Last summer, we held our first EPIC ("Embodying Principles in Culture") workshop for high school students. It was an amazing two week experience focused on learning and teaching the Divine Principle together. EPIC is back for round 2 this summer, coming at you bigger, better, and brighter than before this July 14th-28th! We have an unshakable faith in the power of the Divine Principle to transform and improve the lives of our young people — and through them, the world. Because of this, our core staff has invested many hours and days of work into developing a stellar two week workshop to help educate our high schoolers.

This year, we will be holding the workshop in the beautiful Morning Garden, where we will study the DP from cover to cover, practice teaching it to one another, learn about True Parents' life course, and take a weekend camping retreat into the mountains of New Hampshire to appreciate God's beautiful creation, among many other activities! We truly hope to create a life-changing experience that our participants will carry with them for the rest of their lives.

Please click the registration link below, and be sure to register by June 7th to receive the lower early bird price! We are offering scholarships and grants to those students who cannot afford to pay the full price for the workshop - we don't want money to be an obstacle to a young person's life of faith.

MISSION STATEMENT: For participants to understand Divine Principle on a personal level and integrate it into daily life such that they are empowered with confidence to express it to others.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: Rooted in a gaining a deeper and more personal understanding of the Divine Principle, EPIC 2.0 will be organized into three different sections over the two-week program.

>PART 1: The first week consists of a "crash course" in the fundamentals of every chapter of the Divine Principle.

>PART 2: The weekend will consist of a weekend trip in the mountains of New Hampshire to connect with God.

>PART 3: The second week will focus on gaining an understanding of True Parents' life course and how it relates to the DP.

The purpose of the whole workshop is to build a personal connection with the Divine Principle. This will be through group discussions, lectures, stories and input from our workshop parents, and practice in faith-sharing. The purpose of practicing faith-sharing is to 1) increase understanding of the content, and 2) gain confidence in explaining the DP in day-to-day interactions to friends, family, and acquaintances.
