WFWP Iceland: Painting Together: Creativity, Learning and Friendship

Edeltrud Maria Mantel
October 16, 2026

For the eighth time, our painting course began a new series of monthly gatherings, welcoming both returning students and new guests in a warm and peaceful atmosphere.

Participants of different ages and experience levels enjoyed exploring their creativity. While advanced students learned techniques for painting backgrounds, beginners practised by painting an apple. One young child even joined her mother, painting alongside her and adding a special touch to the gathering.

Beyond learning painting techniques, the course offers everyone an opportunity to express their individuality and personality through art. Each painting reflects the unique perspective and creativity of its artist.

We concluded the September session with coffee and an outdoor barbecue, enjoying the sunshine as we said goodbye to summer. Despite the chilly air, the gathering provided a lovely opportunity to relax, share conversations, and get to know one another better.

Through art and friendship, our painting course continues to bring people together, inspire creativity, and nurture meaningful connections.