We all desire for our youth to lead healthy and meaningful lives, grow up to create strong marriages and families, and to nurture children of their own. Yet in our current culture they unfortunately first must learn to navigate a culture that sexualizes children and a veritable minefield of readily accessible porn. In this webinar we will learn about some of the tools created by amazing people with decades of experience in the field of educating youth about healthy sex, free from porn and about building healthy radiant marriages.

Sponsored by the International Media Association for Peace of Universal Peace Federation
