Stopping Violence Conference Reflection

A followup report and reflection on the recent Stopping the Violence Best Practices National Conference, from Imam Ahmed Alamine, Police Chaplin, Indianapolis Metropolitan PD

Wednesday, January 8, 2025 from 2 to 3pm EST

With Special Guest:

Imam Ahmed Alamine

Police Chaplin and Executive Director of the Muslim Community Association
Indianapolis, Indiana

Imam Ahmed Alamine holds a Bachelor's and Master's in Islamic Studies and an MBA and is currently pursuing a Doctorate in Philanthropic Leadership at Indiana University, focusing on addressing community gun violence. He joined the Indianapolis Muslim Community Association (IMCA) as Imam in 2017 and was promoted to Executive Director in 2024, overseeing IMCA's operations, including its Masjid, full-time school, Weekend School, Food Pantry, free health clinic, Islamic funeral services, and the Muslim Task Force.

Imam Alamine also serves as a Sheriff Chaplain with the Marion County Sheriff's Office and, in 2019, became the first Muslim Police Chaplain with the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department, providing support to Officer and civilians during critical incidents such as homicides and suicides. A respected civic leader locally, nationally, and internationally, he is dedicated to fostering collaboration across government, business, nonprofit, and community sectors to drive meaningful social change.
